The courage of mum fighting ovarian cancer

A Barry woman who has ovarian cancer has called for a national screening programme to save people the anguish of a late diagnosis.

Doctors first thought that Lesley Brown, aged 46, a mum of two, was suffering from a water infection when she complained of pains down her side.

"In October, 2013, I went to the doctor because I had abdominal pain down the left hand side. "The pain was bad, I'd gone off my food, was pale and bloated. I was treated with antibiotics and co-codamol.

"In late October of that year I was sent in to hospital with what I thought was another water infection."

TRAVELLERS STOPPED PLAY! Cricket abandoned as caravans roll on to playing fields

by GEM REPORTER

TRAVELLERS moved their caravans on to Bryn y Don playing fields in Dinas Powys last Thursday, June 18, causing disruption for people who wanted to play sport and use the skate park.

The GEM understands they are from Marseilles. Vale MP Alun Cairns called on the Vale Council to ensure that local facilities are available for use.

He visited the site and spoke to people in Dinas Powys who were concerned about the developing situation.

Dinas Powys Cricket Club captain Nathan Piddock told Mr Cairns the club was unable to complete a home fixture due to the disruption.

Mr Cairns said other local sports teams, including Dinas Powys Football Club, have been unable to complete training sessions on the site due to the presence of human excrement and used toilet paper strewn across the fields.

Mr Cairns said: "Local residents are right to be concerned about what is happening to an area that is so well used for sport, dog walking and for the enjoyment of the community."

Cardiff gets Mermaid Quay and just what does Barry get?

IHAVE been living on Barry Waterfront for 15 years with my family, eagerly waiting for the rest of the development and regeneration of the docks that have been promised and planned, watching all the comings and goings of an army of trucks and men doing all sorts of work around the docks and on the mole, only to be let down again and again by the town planning officers.

Did the people in the planning office win their jobs in a raffle because that's what it looks like to me. They never seem to get things right.

Italy gets the Amalfi coast, France gets the Riviera, London gets the 'Eye', Cardiff Mermaid Quay, Penarth gets a marina, Barry gets Gavin and Stacey and a portable cabin in the middle of the docks, but we have to be grateful.

Shame on the planner who gave permission for this; you clearly don't live in this town, or you would not be doing your very best to destroy it.

Where has all the money gone from the sale of the land and where is the cafe quarter that was promised? Name and address supplied.

Is Darren Farm development such a terrible thing?

SO the Vale Council has finalised its Local Development Plan and is keeping the proposal to build 390 houses at Darren Farm (The GEM, June 4).

Is that really such a terrible thing, as some people seem to believe? Think about it. New houses have to be built. We are, after all, an ageing and growing population.

Doesn't it make sense to have one larger development in one dedicated area, rather than several small ones dotted all over the place, with all the extra pressure that would be put on the local infrastructure (such as roads, or rather lanes, ill-equipped to deal with the extra traffic such developments would bring)?

All across the United Kingdom, not just in Wales, communities are having to look at ways of accommodating new development. Decisions need to be made, and they need to be the right ones.

Of all the options on the table, Darren Farm seems to me to be a good one for Cowbridge. For too long people have been priced out of the Cowbridge area. This would go a long way to reversing that trend.

Cowbridge needs young people and young families... otherwise it has no future. Having young families living together in one community, with all the social and economic benefits that would mean, would surely be an asset to Cowbridge.

It wouldn't threaten the future of the town; it would in fact be its lifeblood.

Of course, people fear change. But change has to happen, it's how societies and mankind evolves.

The key is making sure that it is the right kind of change. Does Cowbridge want one dedicated site with 390 odd houses on it, or 390 houses built in 25 to 50 potentially inappropriate locations with all the associated upheaval that would cause? To me, it's a no-brainer.

Mr S Ward, An ex-Cowbridge resident, now living in Cardiff.

Conservatives are not 'wishing airport to fail'

IN his GEM column last week, Labour's First Minister, Carwyn Jones, made a number of 'intriguing' observations in reference to Cardiff Airport, most of which were incorrect.

Firstly, he stated that "Cardiff Airport goes from strength to strength". Unfortunately, the statistics paint a different picture.

A day after the publication of his column, it was announced that passenger numbers had dipped under a million. While passenger numbers have been in steep decline since 2007, unfortunately Welsh Labour's purchase of the airport has done nothing to arrest that slide.

Secondly, he made the absurd accusation that the Welsh Conservatives are "wishing it to fail", which couldn't be further from the truth.

While we fundamentally disagreed with the First Minister's original decision to use taxpayers' money to purchase Cardiff Airport, it is in Wales' interests that we have a vibrant and attractive airport.

Given that over 80 million pounds of public money has now been spent by Welsh Labour on purchasing and running costs at the airport, taxpayers deserve to hear how the First Minister intends to deliver on his promises. Empty rhetoric no longer cuts it.

Vale railway is a third-class service

IREAD with interest the News article in The GEM on June 19, regarding the Vale railway's 10-year anniversary.

I agree that the line has provided an outlet to Cardiff and other destinations, but I have some reservations and I am sure other passengers (and certainly commuters) will concur.

The 'rolling stock' is old and antiquated and sometimes there are carriages being used that were built in the 60s or 70s! They are rusty, old and smelly, and dangerous when overcrowded - which is a frequent occurrence in the busy periods of early mornings and late afternoons.

Why should we, as the public and patrons of the service, put up with this third-class service?

I email ATW frequently about the service in the Vale and the replies from the company are not reassuring or encouraging to say the least.

All I want is a clean, modern carriage with a seat.

I urge ATW to respond, as I feel the population of the Vale, although using the service, are suffering because of the lack of investment and maintenance.

Mr Paul Revers.

Keep Island open in the evenings

MY husband and I are so pleased money is being spent on restoring Barry Island to bring more people in.

So perhaps someone can tell me, when you go down to Barry Island after 7.30pm why are all the cafes and shops closed?

We went two weeks running, and the only places open are the amusements.

As locals we would love to go down on a lovely sunny evening and sit on a bench and drink a nice cup of coffee and I am sure tourists would like that as well. It seems very strange to me.

Mrs R Evans, Barry.

As the airport lies in Welsh Government hands, it is absolutely paramount that success and expansion are achieved. The Welsh Conservatives' 'Blueprint for Cardiff Airport' is exactly that, before selling the airport back into the private sector and reimbursing the taxpayer.

Unfortunately, as I write this, the airport has suffered another setback with the withdrawal of yet another route, this time the LinksAir operation from Cardiff to Norwich. Yet again, there are more questions than answers.

Andrew RT Davies
Leader of the Welsh Conservatives

'Vale Jazz made my weekend'

THE Vale Jazz Weekend, made my weekend! I have just returned from an amazing weekend of wonderful music from the jazz genre... in Barry!

The Vale Jazz Weekend started on Friday afternoon in Kings Square with a New Orleans style traditional jazz band called The Dixielanders, who played parade fashion through Holton Road up to The Buck, where the first band of the weekend, Gypsy Jazz, started off the live shows, and finished with a jazz outfit called the Remi Harris Project at the Barry Island Sports and Social Club.

There were 25 performances throughout the weekend, I couldn't get to see them all, but the ones I did see were sensational!

On Saturday evening, the headliner, Sean Taylor, packed out the Barry West End Club, and the other artists I went to see also had very respectable audiences too.

The one thing I must criticise about this weekend was the lack of public awareness.

I even overheard other people saying that if they knew about this event in advance they would've come to earlier performances and even spread the word. I know this wasn't the organisers' fault - they did all they could to publicise the festival as much as they could around the Vale, with only a few businesses in and around Barry willing to put up a poster in their shops or supply a programme. I haven't seen any mention of it in the local newspapers either.

Most of the publicity has been made over social media, which is only effective if people are actually looking for this sort of thing, so local advertising was very important for this really.

But I will take my hat off to the organisers of this festival for pulling off a fantastic event - which was all free to attend.

Gavin Humphreys, Barry.
GEM note: The Glamorgan GEM carried a number of pieces on the Jazz Festival, including one on page four last week.

'Flight cancelled - so we drove to Glasgow'

I, TOO, was glad to hear more flights were going from Cardiff Airport (GEM letters last week).

We fly frequently, mainly from Bristol and being so close to Cardiff Airport always felt it was a shame you couldn't go anywhere from there.

A warning, though, to our enthusiastic readers - my wife and I booked one of the first Flybe flights to Glasgow for last week. We sat in the departure lounge for our 10.20am flight.

Past midday, a message came over saying the flight was cancelled.

There was no other flight that day and many people who had planned to see relatives, or had business meetings or leisure activities planned were left at a loss on what to do. We had no choice but to drive to Glasgow.

What sort of message does Flybe send when after only a few weeks of flying from Cardiff they cancel flights? They had no contingency plans and Flybe do not accept consequential losses, so if you paid in advance for car parking or needed hotels - tough.

We are now trying to recover our fares. I'm afraid our confidence is lost with Flybe and we shall return to Bristol and use Easyjet where we have never been let down.

Michael Lister, Ewenny.

Roger will sort out Cardiff Airport

REGARDING Mr C Wilkins' support of Steph Bonner saying 'let's support Cardiff Airport' (GEM letters, June 18) I would like to stress as taxpayers we pay £500,000 per annum to provide a T-9 bus service which is under-used.

Thankfully, Roger Lewis will take over soon and I have confidence that a man who has been so successful over the years will turn the business around. I have friends from Ireland, Scotland and west Wales who fly from Bristol because it's cheaper. The owners of Cardiff Airport need to look at why this is the case and provide cheap car parking or other incentives for Welsh people to use our international airport.

Living in the Vale, I book two to three flights to Edinburgh but my friends' relatives use Bristol. If I was paying a subsidy for the T-9, I would have conducted a survey to see if it was cost efficient long before now. Don't we have anyone with business experience in the Welsh Government to sort this out prior to Roger's appointment?

Woman dies after rockfall at beach

THE young woman who was killed by a rockfall at Llantwit Major Beach on Thursday, June 18, has been named as 23-year-old Georgie Ford.

She was from Wiltshire but she and her boyfriend had moved to Llantwit Major a year ago.

She was sharing strawberries with one of her best friends when a large boulder plunged 20ft from a cliff-face to hit her head.

Her heartbroken boyfriend Paul Biggs, 24, said: "Georgie loved being by the sea. But she was just in the wrong place at the wrong time. She was gone in an instant."

Georgie and close friend Martha Ormerod, 25, decided to celebrate the end of exams by going clothes shopping, walking to the beach and having the seaside picnic.

Paul said: "They were sitting about 18 feet away from the cliff. We've been there many times and never thought being there would be dangerous."

"But then one large rock fell, followed by some smaller rocks. Martha turned around and suddenly saw the blood on Georgie."

"She did everything she could to save her by giving CPR before the paramedics arrived. But the paramedics told her there was no hope."

"Martha has been in a state of shock but she has managed to write us a letter to explain what happened. We are treating it just as a terrible tragedy which could have happened at any time."

Georgie grew up in Salisbury, Wiltshire, but left to travel abroad with Paul. Paul then enrolled into Cardiff University – and Georgie was hoping to start a computer sciences degree there in September.

Paul said: "We wanted to live by the sea and Llantwit Major was the perfect place. We've been here a year and have been very happy."

"We've walked on the beach many times. Georgie and Martha decided to go there to celebrate finishing their own exams."

"Georgie finished a maths A-level in college and they decided to take Martha's dog down to the beach. She was doing what she loved when she died."

"She did not suffer and she went pretty instantly."

"Georgie was such a happy person. We are planning a leaving party for all her friends to remember her how she was. She loved life. She died very happy."

Paul denied the two young women had been warned to stay away from the cliffs before their picnic.

There are signs along the beach warning about the danger of falling rocks, but Paul said she believed she was a safe distance away.

He said: "They were a good distance from the foot of the cliffs and you would never think that would happen."

"We wouldn't want this tragic accident to discourage anyone from going there or walking on that beach. It is a beautiful place and Georgie loved it."

"She expressed all of her feelings openly, and had a particular saying that won't leave me: 'Everything means something and matters.' It is our tragic loss."

An inquest is due to be opened into the death.

A South Wales Police spokesman said: "It was a tragic accident."

The town's beach party, which was to be held the next day (Friday) as a fundraiser to the Victorian Fayre, was cancelled as a mark of respect.

FREE SUMMER PLAY SCHEME

A FREE summer play scheme for children aged six to 11 will take place in the Murchfield Hall and field, Dinas Powys, from July 27-31.

During the week, children can take part in sports sessions and arts and crafts activities. Equipment and materials will be provided. The scheme will end on the Friday with the screening of a film for children.

Senior pupils (16 plus) at local comprehensive schools will be able to volunteer to help the professional Vale Council officers at the play scheme. The work could count towards their Duke of Edinburgh Award and also as part of their Baccalaureate. They will be trained by the professionals in the week preceding the play scheme.

For further information, contact the clerk, the Parish Hall, Brinway Road, Dinas Powys, on 02920 513114.

BARRY MOTHER IN PLEA FOR 'OVARIAN CANCER SCREENING'

Lesley continued: "In February last year, I then had a CA125 test and it was through the roof."

A CA125 blood test is a simple means of diagnosing ovarian cancer. In Wales 390 women each year receive the devastating news that they have ovarian cancer, and 233 lose their lives.

At one stage Lesley was going to be treated for 'diverticulitis'.

A scan revealed an 'abdominal mass' and the blood test reading was '600 plus'.

At the time, Lesley and her family were unsure as to how serious a threat to her health it would be.

Her sister Alison, who has been a great support throughout, said: "I think at the time we wondered if it was non-malignant – it hadn't been described as dangerous."

An oncologist explained the serious nature of what was happening, and an operation took place in March 2014.

Alison explained: "We were told Lesley was at 'stage 3'. We were told they couldn't remove all the mass, 15 per cent had to be left because it was close to the liver.

Lesley's ovaries, womb and omentum were removed.

"I then had six lots of chemotherapy over a period of eight and a half hours."

She went bald, but dispensed with the wig because it was too itchy!

But Lesley has an indomitable spirit and made a critical decision to remain positive.

"I walked a lot – you can decide to stay in bed, or get up and be happy and smiley."

Lesley, who has worked with children as a play ranger and learning support assistant, successfully fought with the help of local politicians, to get Avastin, a drug that can extend the lives of women with ovarian cancer.

Despite her own worries, she held a fundraiser for Velindre Hospital at Sea View Labour Club. It raised £7,200.

Her CA125 test has been rising and Alison said: "It shows the importance of screening. If there had been screening, Lesley would not have this threat hanging over her."

A 'CA125 blood test' is a 'tumour marker' and provides a strong indication of cancer. It means a GP can refer a woman to a gynaecologist who will then carry out a vaginal scan.

Lesley has also had a 'brca' gene test for ovarian cancer which may help family members in the future.

There is a local 'coffee morning' support group at the Copthorne Hotel for women with ovarian cancer. It is on the last Wednesday of the month from 11am to 1pm (further information available at The GEM).

Lesley's courage shines through and she lives life to the full. The apple of her eye is seven and a half months old granddaughter Edie and she loves spending precious time with her.

The travellers stopped play!

ABOVE: Dinas Powys Cricket Club captain Nathan Piddock told Vale MP Alun Cairns that a fixture had to be cancelled due to the arrival of travellers.

Mr Cairns continued: "I have called on local authority leader Coun Neil Moore to give absolute clarity as to what action the Vale Council proposes to take that will see the return of the fields to local residents in days not weeks."

"The encampment is causing significant disruption and mess. It is completely unacceptable for local people to have to contend with human excrement when simply trying to play sport or walking their dog."

"I want this sorted, the local council must act decisively and swiftly deliver a positive outcome for the people of Dinas Powys."

Mr Cairns is holding a public meeting at 6pm at Dinas Powys Rugby Club tomorrow, Friday, June 26.

Local Plaid Cymru councillors expressed anger that an unlawful travellers' camp had been set up at the sports ground.

Coun Chris Franks said: "We have told the Vale Council that we expect immediate action to remove the caravans."

"Sports activities are being disrupted. We do not expect the Vale Council to drag their feet."

"The latest information I have received is that late Friday last week a detailed report was presented to the Vale.

"This was considered on Tuesday by legal representatives, the police, parks staff and environmental health. I'm told that all options were considered including legal action."

"A Vale officer will be attending the site and serving a notice of intention on the travellers, indicating that if they do not leave site by 12 noon this Thursday, June 25, the council will be taking court action to regain possession of the land."

Coun Franks added: "This is not a piece of waste land but a well used football pitch. It is outrageous that public facilities are being occupied in this way."

The director of visible and housing services at the Vale Council, Miles Punter, confirmed steps were being taken to remove the travellers.

"The parks division is in the process of taking the correct legal action to end the unauthorised occupation of the land."

"A multi-agency case conference will be taking place this week, at which officers will consider and discuss the Gypsy and Traveller Wales site visit report."

"These discussions and any resulting actions will further inform the council's response in this matter."

The GEM understands that a notice has been served on the travellers and they must move by midday today (June 25) or face court action.

Mayor offers a welcome for the town's tall ship traveller!

THE Mayor of Barry Town Council has welcomed home the winner of a competition for young people in Barry to apply for the adventure of a lifetime.

The council has run the competition in recent years, in partnership with the Tall Ships Youth Trust, and one of the winners this year was James French.

He was welcomed by the Mayor of Barry, Coun Emma Pritchard, who said: "What a pleasure it was today to meet James at the end of his voyage.

"As I approached the tall ship and looked up, I was in awe and a little jealous at the thought of what adventures take place on this vessel.

"He and the crew docked at Cardiff Bay after a week-long voyage from Southampton. On boarding the ship, I was met by Captain Liam Keating, Peter Coleman (trustee) along with James and Rhys Horton, one of the other winners.

"The other winner was Katie Phillips who was unable to attend. James escorted me on a tour of the ship and said that he would encourage anyone interested to apply.

"As a member of Barry Town Council, meeting James and seeing the enthusiasm and hearing of the way it has helped him to receive a recommendation from the captain, and the many memories it has brought him.

"I'm encouraged that with this opportunity, as a council, we enable youths to experience a wonderful life-enhancing experience."

Cadoxton WI members visit Buckingham Palace

ALONG with other members of Glamorgan Federation WI, two members from Cadoxton WI joined the coach to London for the garden party at Buckingham Palace on June 2 to celebrate the centenary of the WI.

It was a wonderful experience and our two members said it was a day to remember. Both Averil and Marilyn were very close to the Royals, who stopped and chatted to as many members as possible.

On June 4, two members went to the annual meeting at the Royal Albert Hall, again a wonderful day to be remembered. The meeting was attended by the Queen, Princess Anne and Sophie Wessex. The speakers and entertainment were first class. What a week for Cadoxton WI.

At Monday's meeting, Averil gave a talk about the garden party and Maureen described the annual meeting. On Tuesday, members were invited to Cadoxton School where, along with children from Barry Island School, they had completed a film project depicting scenes and interviews from World War Two. Well done children, and thank you for making a film star of our Cadoxton member Diane.

Three new guests attended Monday's meeting and the talk by the Air Ambulance was well received. The raffles at the meeting were won by Cynthia and Diane.

Meetings are held every third Monday at Victoria Park Community Centre, 7pm. Guests and visitors are welcome; contact 01446 404891.

New housing at 'Marine Hotel' on Barry Island

GER Y MÔR, a new affordable housing development, was launched in true Barry Island style with buried treasures and ice-cream all round!

Built by Newydd Housing Association in partnership with the Vale Council, the development of 20 new apartments at the former Marine Hotel was opened by Coun Bronwen Brooks before Barry Island Primary School entertained tenants, partners and guests by singing songs.

Named by local resident Lisa Wallace following a competition in the press, Ger y Môr (near the sea) doesn't have one but two time capsules. The first was filled and buried by Barry Island Primary School, and the second buried during the opening ceremony. The second was filled with photos from local people on the Island, 'Barrybados' and Bro Radio-branded goodies, the history of the housing scheme and even a stick of rock from the Island.

Polly Davies, teacher at Barry Island Primary, said: "We are delighted to be a part of this launch event.

"It has been a fantastic opportunity being involved in the project from the start, seeing the development of plans to the completion.

"The children have had the opportunity to see real life, hands-on experiences in the workplace, having an insight into the way that our community develops around us."

A £2.4million development, Ger y Môr has been let to local people, 70 per cent having downsized to release affordable accommodation for larger households.

Coun Brooks said: "The recent welfare reforms and the introduction of the spare room subsidy, more commonly known as the 'bedroom tax', has increased the need for one and two bedroom properties, such as those provided at Ger y Môr."

Barry Community Choir is born!

BARRY Choral Society, originally called Barry and District Choral Society, was formed in 1968.

The National Eisteddfod was held in Barry in August 1968 and many local people joined the large eisteddfod choir.

Clifford Bunford was involved in conducting the rehearsals at that time. When the eisteddfod was over, Cliff decided, because of the enthusiasm shown by the members of the choir, to set up a local choir. So Barry Choral Society was born.

Cliff conducted the choir for a few years, followed by Douglas Baxter for 26 years with Evelyn Careless as accompanist, both being the longest serving conductor and a c o m p a n i s t respectively over the 48 years of the choir's history.

The choir has been an instrument for delivering superb music and committed itself to performing a wide range of songs to the community of Barry.

A change happened in 2013 when accompanist Emma Arscott became the choir conductor and Siân Davies took over as accompanist.

They have proved to be a great musical team working well together.

Another change took place in January this year when it was agreed at the annual general meeting to change the name and rebrand the choir.

Fun was had finding a new name - A Choral Taste, Accord Singers, Waves of Harmony, Coastal Choir - a short list of three was made.

The choir voted on Barry Community Choir, so here we are - the new Barry Community Choir!

Do you enjoy singing and would you love to be in a choir? It has

MUSIC, SPORT AND THE 'WILD WOOD' AT GLADSTONE PRIMARY

ABOVE: Year-2 drumming with Dave from Upbeat Music and Arts.

WHAT a busy week for children and staff at Gladstone Primary School!

Last week, Reception children spent the day at Barry Island and loved splashing in rock pools and playing in the sand.

Year-2 children were treated to a drumming session from Dave from Upbeat Music and Arts. They all took part, each child playing a drum and learning different rhythms.

Year-4 spent the day at Cosmeston Lakes Country Park as part of their topic Wild Wood.

They explored the woodland environment, looking at different habitats and bravely hunting for bugs.

Year-5 went to Pontcanna fields in Cardiff for a river field trip. They carried out investigations into how fast the river flowed as well as searching for river life.

Children in year-6 were given the opportunity to take part in cycle training run by Sian Akers, road safety officer for the Vale Council. Those children who passed the basic Level 1 course were supervised on the roads around the school, learning how to cycle safely on the road.

Every child in the school participated in sports day. Thankfully, the sun was shining and the children, parents and teachers took part in their races with smiles on their faces. The school would like to thank all children and parents for their continued enthusiasm and support.

Valeways gets a £500 boost

VALEWAYS, the Barry-based organisation for countryside access and walking, was delighted to receive a £500 grant from Barry Tesco Community Fund earlier this month to pay for waymarkers (circular discs) which mark the route of Valeways' walks throughout the Vale.

A spokesperson said: "Valeways volunteers will replace damaged or missing waymarkers along their published walks as part of their regular 'Walk and Clear' sessions.

"Thanks to the many people who voted for Valeways at Barry Tesco."

Manager Arran Rees made the presentation to four grateful volunteers - Mike Edwards, Vale Warlow, Phil Gibbins and Brenda Gibbins.

One 'course' that won't put the weight on Mark!

LOCAL resident Mark Rees has lost a staggering five and half stone in seven months – thanks to a Barry Communities First foodwise weight loss course.

He signed up for the course because his weight was having a "significant negative impact" on his life, including low confidence, breathlessness and high blood pressure.

Mark's diet before this course included up to 16 biscuits a day in addition to 3-4 sandwiches, fizzy drinks, multiple chocolate bars and daily takeaways. Now he no longer skips breakfast and regularly eats porridge, omelettes, soup and other healthy alternatives.

Mark said: "My life has completely changed since completing this course and losing weight, I'm more energetic, I go to the gym four times a week and I now feel I've got the confidence to do a health, fitness and wellbeing course with Cardiff and Vale College with the long term ambition of becoming a personal trainer."

DINAS POWYS CHARITY'S AGM

THE AGM of Dinas Powys Voluntary Concern will be held on Tuesday, July 21 at 7pm for 7.30pm in Lee Hall, Britway Road.

In addition to the usual election of officers and reports, the keynote speaker will be Enfy Griffiths, community transport officer, Vale Council, who will outline the unique partnership that has been developed between the council, Dinas Powys Medical Centre and DPVC to address transport links with the medical centre.

The charity works closely with the Vale Council. With the potential of cuts in budgets, there could be serious implications for voluntary groups across the county and this may be discussed at the meeting.

National Survey presents challenges for Government

EARLIER this month the National Survey for Wales 2014-2015 was published based on face-to-face interviews with more than 14,000 people across Wales.

The survey collects detailed information on the views and experiences of people in Wales on a wide range of topics which provides valuable data for the Welsh Government to guide us in our work.

We recognise that there is a great deal to learn from surveys of this kind which can inform us about our policies and priorities at a time of reducing public finances. The results from the latest National Survey were encouraging - showing that people across Wales remain highly satisfied with the NHS, education and with their daily lives.

The survey showed that 91 per cent of people in Wales were satisfied with the care they received from their GPs and 96 per cent of hospital patients felt treated with care and respect. The overall satisfaction rate with health services was 6.3 and 6.6 for education (where zero is 'extremely bad' and 10 is 'extremely good').

Other findings included:

81 per cent of parents helped their children with reading and writing at least several times a week.

79 per cent think people in their local area treat each other with respect.

78 per cent of households had access to the internet - an increase from 75 per cent in 2013-14 and 73 per cent in 2012-13.

Of the 81 per cent who use the internet 60 per cent use a smartphone. Also, 38 per cent get their news about Wales from the internet and 56 per cent of households with children aged seven to 15 used parental control filters.

Positive results for local services included an 82 per cent satisfaction rate for their local authority's recycling collection.

There were areas where actions need to be taken including responding to the 46 per cent who find it difficult to afford childcare.

This is a priority for us as we expand the provision of Flying Start - providing free childcare across Wales, including the Vale of Glamorgan, and we are working with the national childcare providers to find affordable childcare solutions, accessing European funding whenever possible.

The survey raises concerns over material deprivation (that is being unable to afford certain things such as keeping the house warm enough, making regular savings or having a holiday once a year).

The responses to the questions about household finances

ASSEMBLY NOTES

by
Jane Hutt
AM (Minister for Finance)

revealed that 40 per cent of respondents were having at least some difficulties keeping up with bills.

Of great concern was the finding that 59 per cent of people thought that the gap between the rich and the poor will be larger in 25 years' time and 59 per cent of people thought the effects on climate change will be worse in 25 years' time.

These views present real challenges for government at all levels as we head towards a UK Government Budget on July 8.

Following a recent announcement by the Chancellor of a £50m cut to our Welsh Government budget for this financial year, on top of the £1.4bn cuts we have had to manage over the past five years, we still have a commitment to reduce inequality and tackle child poverty as a priority.

There is much to learn from the National Survey which can be accessed on wales.gov.uk/nationalsurvey. I am sharing these findings with groups of people I am meeting on my Budget Tour who 'work on the front-line' across Wales.

Last week this included people working in health, housing and local government finance and included a young apprentice, a carer as well as volunteers in their local communities.

The First Minister, Carwyn Jones also made a statement last week on our Programme of Government Annual Report which provides us with an opportunity to take stock of where we are as a country and what the Welsh Government has achieved over the past year.

He was able to report on the commitments we set out five years ago in Five for a Fairer Future, including the 500 new Community Support Officers, the doubling of Flying Start childcare provision, exceeding targets for Jobs Growth Wales for 16-25 year olds and longer GP opening hours.

He also reported that we are investing more in health than ever before and more per head on Health and Social Services combined, than England.

Most importantly he emphasised the importance of supporting business in Wales to create growth and jobs, with inward investment at its highest levels for decades.

So, much to learn, much to consider and always more challenges to face as we await the UK Government Budget and the forthcoming 'Spending Review'.

COMMUNITY GARDEN IS SET FOR CEMETERY APPROACH

THE Vale Council has taken a further step towards the creation of a community garden at Cemetery Approach, Barry, following funding support being proposed by Barry Town Council at a special meeting on March 24.

In 2012 residents took part in a consultation on the future of Cemetery Approach, with a community garden being voted the most popular option. Planning permission was granted in November 2014.

The proposal is to transform two parcels of land at Cemetery Approach into an open community garden and nature reserve, accessible to everyone.

The project could also see an outdoor classroom, new lawns, and nature conservation areas created following the conclusion of the design process. A joint project board has been agreed to move matters forward and to finalise designs.

Coun Gwyn John, Vale cabinet member for visible and leisure services, said: "I'm very pleased that we can finally put these plans into action."

"This is exactly what the local residents asked us to do, and I'm very happy that we've been able to follow that through."

"I'm hoping this will become a welcome addition to the local area," Coun John added.

GEM report sparks support for blind cyclist's challenge

A BLIND man's bid to ride a tandem from Paris to Swansea is gathering pace - thanks to THE GEM.

Keith Barrett, owner of guide dog Lena, was delighted to receive a call from quiz regulars at the Blacksmiths Arms in Llanmaes, who had read about his charity exploits in their favourite paper.

The pub invited Cornstown's Keith and Lena to its Wednesday quiz night, where organisers presented him with a cheque for £300 to Guide Dogs Cymru.

Keith, who has been blind since birth, will cycle 320 miles in four days with the help of Andy Harries, who is piloting the tandem.

The pair, both members of the Ogmere Valley Wheelers cycling club, had to pay up-front entry fees of £800 each to cover flights and accommodation before they could start raising money for Guide Dogs Cymru.

Keith said: "Being

Keith Barrett and guide dog Lena with Sue Jones and Sian Ward from the Blacksmiths Arms.

blind means I've faced many challenges in my life, and this cycle ride is one of the biggest! Guide Dogs changed my life, and now it's time for me to give something back. We've been training hard and we're looking forward to the challenge."

Sue Jones, from the Blacksmiths Arms, said: "Someone saw the article about Keith and we decided to make a donation. People pay £1.50 each to enter our weekly quiz for fun prizes like chocolates. It's surprising how quickly the money mounts up, and we give out three cheques a year to local charities or people who are doing something worthwhile. The maximum we give is £300."

Keith plans to test his own general knowledge on July 24 at a charity quiz night at Gilead Chapel Hall, Coity, Bridgend, run by Ogmere Valley Wheelers in aid of Guide Dogs Cymru.

Teams of four to six are invited to take part at £10 per person, to include a fish and chip supper and the chance to win raffle prizes. Entry is by ticket only and places are limited. To find out more, ring Keith on 07985 333301 or keith@barrettptianos.co.uk. You can also hear Keith and Andy talking about their upcoming cycle ride on Bro FM on Thursday, July 2, from 1.15pm.

VALE'S 'BIG FILL' SCHEME IS BACK!

THE BIG Fill is returning to complete the council's pledge to fill potholes in every ward in the Vale.

Since July of last year, the BIG Fill has visited 16 wards in the Vale of Glamorgan, using 120 tonnes of tarmac to fill approximately 1,900 potholes.

And the work continues as the team head to the ward of Rhose on Saturday and Sunday, July 4-5.

Potholes in Rhose need to be reported between June 29 and July 3. See website at www.valeofglamorgan.gov.uk.

To report a pothole, call the contact centre on 01446 700111 or email thebigfill@valeofglamorgan.gov.uk.

'NHS needs to be patient-focused'

I WAS disappointed by the news that Cardiff and Vale University Health Board was among three boards in Wales that overspent last year – being £21.4 million in the red.

This level of financial mismanagement is deeply worrying. It shows that resources are not being properly used and is further evidence that the Welsh NHS is not well run.

Our NHS staff in Wales work exceptionally hard, but are continually let down by the Welsh Labour Government. The decision to cut health spending here has meant that the health board does not have sufficient resources to deliver the services the people of Barry and the rest of the Vale need.

The Welsh NHS needs to be patient-focused, with resources focused on front line services. Waiting times are far too long, and Wales needs a cancer drugs fund so that people can receive lifesaving treatments.

I care passionately about healthcare, and delivering a better NHS must be a priority. Labour's record is appalling and this overspend is the latest example that it has let Wales down.

Charity night for young burns victims

A CHARITY night in aid of the Welsh Dragon Burns Club is being held on Friday, August 14 at the Marriott Hotel in Swansea, hosted by Swansea Sound presenter and panto favourite, Kev Johns.

It aims to raise as much cash as possible for the club based at Morriston Hospital which provides support to children who have suffered burns or disfigurements.

The club also gives youngsters the opportunity to take part in day trips and other activities, all aimed at building confidence and self-esteem while having fun.

The charity night with a black tie theme has been organised by Michaela Sutton, staff nurse on the Dyfed ward at the Welsh Centre for Burns and Plastic Surgery.

She said: "We hadn't had a function like this for a while so we wanted to revive the tradition and give people a chance to get dressed up smartly and enjoy themselves."

"We haven't got a target figure in mind, we just want to raise as much money as possible because it is such a good cause."

The burns centre treats children from all over south and mid-Wales and the club has members who come from as far afield as the Severn estuary, across to Machynlleth.

Dyfed ward manager Louise Scannell, who heads the club's team, said all funds raised by the event will go towards events like the club's annual camps, days out and Christmas party.

The charity night, at 7pm, features a three-course gala meal, live music from The Raspberry Jam, close-up magic from Adam James Reeves and an auction with a range of great prizes.

Tickets cost £28 and are available by contacting Michaela on 07791 987097.

Walk to Remember loved ones with Marie Curie charity

MARIE Curie is encouraging people in south Wales to get together with friends and family for a 10km walk around Cardiff Castle on August 30, in memory of loved ones and to raise money for people living with a terminal illness.

There is also a shorter pushchair-friendly 5.5km route in the Walk to Remember at 6.30pm.

Afterwards everyone can enjoy an evening of celebrations as the sun goes down, including live music and a fire juggling performance. Hot food is on sale – or hold a picnic. Car parking is available off site in nearby Sophia Gardens.

Registration is £10 per person and children under-16 go free (on-the-night adult registration is £20). Participants are asked to raise a minimum of £100 in sponsorship, which will pay for five hours of care.

"All funds raised will help Marie Curie provide care and support to people living with a terminal illness and their loved ones, whether that's at home, or in the Marie Curie hospice in Penarth," said Matt Carruthers, events manager at Marie Curie.

"Walk to Remember is a great opportunity to get together with friends and family, and think of loved ones who have passed away, while taking in some of the country's beautiful scenery.

"By signing up for Walk to Remember in Cardiff Castle and reaching the fundraising target, you'll be helping Marie Curie provide expert care, guidance and support to help people living with a terminal illness get the most from their time."

Register for Walk to Remember at www.mariecurie.org.uk/get-involved/charity-events/walking/charity-walks/cardiff, or for more information call 0845 052 4184.

AM hits out at shortage of 'disabled-friendly' homes

ELUNED PARROTT, Welsh Lib-Dem AM for South Wales Central, raised the issue of adapted housing and the fact that there is a chronic shortage of such homes in Cardiff, RCT and the Vale in the Assembly.

"In the Vale of Glamorgan, there are 18 families waiting for bespoke homes for children with significant disabilities, but while the council has promised to build homes, no suitable land has as yet been identified," she said.

In a question to the Minister for Communities and Tackling Poverty, the AM called for an assessment of the number of adapted homes that are constructed each year and an analysis of how this compares with the actual demand: "From discussions with my constituents, it is clear that the number of adapted homes fall well short of what is needed. It is important that this assessment is carried out urgently, so that action plans for future housing can incorporate the needs of those with disabilities.

"There is a hidden housing crisis in Wales, with thousands of Welsh families in desperate need of disabled-friendly homes.

"Last week, the charity Leonard Cheshire Disability handed over a petition to the Assembly calling for all new homes to be built to lifetime home standards and for 10 per cent to be built to full wheelchair accessibility standards. This is a campaign that has my wholehearted support.

"While we are starting to see some positive news in terms of the number of new houses being built in Wales, I have concerns that this does nothing to improve the provision of lifetime homes, or fully wheelchair accessible homes. This needs to be rectified as a matter of urgency."

Barry's Jazz Festival makes successful debut

THE Vale Jazz Festival held in Barry last weekend (June 19 - 21) has been hailed a success by organisers.

Over the weekend, 24 acts took part in the jazz festival in 14 venues around the town including Marco's, The West End Club, The Ship, The Park and the Borough Arms.

Among the bands to play were the Dixielanders, Bella Collins, The Numbers Racket, Dale Storr, Sean Taylor, Hot Club Gallois and the Remi Harris project.

The festival was opened on the Friday by the Archbishop of Wales, Barry Morgan, who also took a special jazz service on the Sunday with the Mayor of the Vale, Coun Fred Johnson as a guest.

Organising chair Coun Richard Bertin said: "This was our first year and what a great year it was. Thousands came to visit the festival and all the feedback from those attending was extremely positive."

"The aim of the event was not only to provide free entertainment for the community, but to promote jazz and bring visitors to the town and we succeeded."

"We had to get funding to make it happen and it wasn't until about six weeks ago that we found out we were successful in our bid, so our team worked extremely hard to make this event happen."

We are now looking forward to putting on another event next year and we would ask all those interested to get involved and join our organising committee."

Before the event could take place, the committee had to chase sponsorship from a variety of sources to get around £9,000 to make it happen. Sponsorship came from a variety of sources including The Arts Council for Wales, The National Lottery, Vale Council, Barry Town Council, Cardiff Bus, Newydd Housing and a variety of other local sources.

Next year, it is hoped the event will be bigger and better with educational courses for children.

Young children also took part this year, coming from Jenner Park School, Barry to read a poem about 'a jazz drummer'.

Gemma Collard, who is the organising secretary, and project advisor, said: "Our challenge next year is to get more visitors to attend the festival and to make it bigger and better."

"We would like to thank all those who were involved in Vale Jazz this year and look forward to your support again next year."

STILL recovering from the effects of the 2012 event, which was cancelled at the last-minute due to bad weather, Barry Scouts and Guides are urging members of the public and local businesses to support this year's annual fete at Romilly Park on Saturday, July 4.

It costs almost £10,000 to stage the fete for the Scouts and Girl Guides and, if hit by the weather, almost 10 per cent of the costs of running vital training programmes throughout the year could be lost.

Fete chair Cathie Steele said: "Despite the nice weather last year, the Scouts and Guides in the district are still suffering from the loss of income from the 2012 fete which involved having to use reserves to maintain their normal programme of activities."

"If the weather is fine and we can attract our usual audience of some 7,000 people, then any funds raised go direct to the individual groups. Therefore, this year, more than ever we need support via sponsors, patrons and on the day."

This year's fete marks 30 years of a joint event held with the Guides which will be supported by the 1st Rogerstone Scout Band, Wales' only remaining Scout band.

Throughout the day there will be arena displays from The British Legion Motorcycle Display Team, Above and Beyond flying trapeze artists, Goshin Karate and FitM8 Personal Training who will be on hand to offer advice.

Entry (gates open at 12 noon) will be via a lucky draw programme, costing £2, which can be purchased from all Scout and Guide groups or on the day at the gates. Children under five can enter free. Each programme purchased can be entered into a draw, with cash prizes along with prizes donated from Cotswold Outdoors, Coastal Coffee, Inn House Automatics and Barrybados.

The fete committee would like to thank all those who have so readily helped to organise this year's fete and especially to the patrons and local businesses who have financially supported the committee.

Cathie added: "Please spend generously on the day and thank you for your support."

Charity's Ugandan ties

Vale for Africa scholarship student Isaac Onyango and Vale for Africa supporters at Atlantic College.

VALE for Africa, the charity linking the Vale with a Ugandan community, held its annual general meeting recently.

The charity was set up seven years ago, and has been working to improve the quality of life of the residents of Tororo, an area of Eastern Uganda, near the border with Kenya.

Vale for Africa focuses on long term sustainable projects, and, because there are no overheads or salaries, every penny raised contributes directly to improving the health and education prospects of young people.

The chair, Ted Arbuthnot, paid tribute to the volunteers and partner organisations who have worked hard over the past year. Until recently, pupils of two primary schools had to walk two kilometres carrying heavy containers full of water to their primary school, because there was no water supply.

Vale for Africa and Cowbridge Rotary Club have changed that, by ensuring that the schools are now joined up to the mains water supply, and they hope to continue this work in other schools.

The charity has also sent teams of volunteers to Tororo to perform eye tests, and to train volunteers there to continue the eye health scheme. During the last visit, over 400 people, most of them children, were tested and provided with spectacles or referred to hospital for treatable conditions such as glaucoma and cataracts.

Vale for Africa has also increased the number of books in the community library, from a few hundred to nearly four thousand. This means that more children can study outside school hours. Some of the local schools report that exam results have improved as a direct result of the expansion of the library.

The Vale for Africa Scholarship gives a unique opportunity to a young person from Tororo to come to Atlantic College, St Donats, to study for two years. Leaving Tororo to travel to Wales as a teenager is challenging, as is coping with Welsh winters after living near the equator.

The charity helps out by providing the student with winter clothes and other essentials to help make life a little easier while they are here.

They said goodbye to Isaac Onyango in May, who will go on to study engineering in Oklahoma, and will be welcoming a new student when term starts later this year.

A spokesman said: "A new board of trustees were elected and we all hope to be able to continue to work in Uganda, but this will only be possible with the support of members and volunteers."

"If you are interested, please think about joining, it only costs £20 per year and that goes a very long way. We also need trustees with specific skills such as fundraising and IT, so if you have a little bit of time to spare please get in touch, either through our website www.valeforafrica.org.uk or email skbowyer@yahoo.co.uk."

PRAISE FOR VALE COUNCIL'S HOME ADAPTATION SCHEME

RIGHT: A ramp at the home of Mrs Lewis, Longmeadow Drive, Dinas Powys.

THE average time taken by the Vale Council to deliver disabled facilities grants in the county has been reduced to 199 days, an improvement of 30 per cent compared to last year.

A council spokesman said: "Following a complete overhaul of the delivery process, average waiting times have fallen year on year since 2008/9, and grants are now delivered on average around five times quicker than they were then."

Mrs Lewis of Longmeadow Drive, Dinas Powys, first made contact with the council in December 2014, requesting facilities such as an access ramp and a stairlift.

Following visits from liaison officers in January and a survey, work began on improvements for Mrs Lewis' home. After regular visits from the grant officer to ensure the quality of work was maintained, the improvements were signed off in May, just 136 days after the initial call.

Mrs Lewis said: "I was struggling to get my husband out through the front door due to the steps, but the new disabled ramp, level access door and stairlift means my husband can now go outside in his wheelchair with me.

"Due to the fact I had to pay a contribution it was important that I received value for money, and I was impressed by the quality of the ramp, door and stairlift and the expertise provided by the council's grant agency service."

"Now that the work has been completed, I could not manage without it."

Disabled facilities grants fund the adaptation of privately owned homes to allow disabled residents to live as independently as possible in their own home for as long as possible.

The cabinet member for housing, Coun Bronwen Brooks, said: "I'm very pleased that significant improvements had been made, and hopefully if we carry on working as hard as we are now, we can look forward to further decreases in the delivery time of DFGs in the future."

Following the announcement, Council staff are encouraging residents to get in touch to discuss the grants process, to highlight areas of success, and to suggest any improvements that could reduce the delivery time further.

To give your views call the contact centre on 01446 700111, or email clv@valeofglamorgan.gov.uk.

PLAN AHEAD FOR THE PERFECT CONSERVATORY OR ORANGERY EXTENSION

When is the best time to start planning for a new conservatory or orangerie?

It's a question we are asked frequently at Securahome, and the answer is, as soon as you can.

With many conservatories, the process from consultation to build is quick and straightforward. However if, for example, your house has previously been extended, you want an orangerie extension or drainage needs to be moved it can take months rather than weeks to get any necessary approvals.

At Securahome, we act as project manager on every new conservatory or orangerie build and frequently deal with extensions that require permissions. In our experience it pays to allow at least 10 weeks for authority planning permission, with sewer agreements often involving a similar timescale.

When it comes to design, there are plenty of options to consider. Once you've spoken to a conservatory or orangerie specialist, allow time to consider the layout and how you will use your new room as well as those all-important design features, before formal plans are drawn up and submitted.

This is your home, so it is important that everything is perfect.

In gardening terms, to ensure that you are sitting back in your new room when there's blossom on the trees, it makes good sense to set the process in motion before snowdrops send up their early green shoots.

And for those in the know, this popular thoroughfare has a great selection of independent businesses, run by family people with a strong entrepreneurial spirit who provide the very best service.

There's a constant buzz about Park Crescent with a busy public house, Romilly Primary School, shops and churches all jostling contentedly together.

Teresa Pereira decided to locate her business Tulip Bridal Wear and Photo Studio in the area in April last year.

It is in the refitted premises once occupied by The Grapevine on St Nicholas Road.

Teresa said: "We have got new designers in – Alfred Angelo, Enzoani, and Nicole.

"We have bridal packages to suit every pocket – bronze, silver, gold and platinum.

"We've got 55 dress designs at the moment and a selection of bridesmaid and flower

The new photographer for the company is Mark Osman, well known for his work in High Street.

The photo studio is a convenient location for a family or individual portrait.

There is a free car park right next to the showroom and Teresa encourages brides and their mums or friends to come in and discuss all the options available.

The business is open Tuesday to Saturday, 10am to 5pm, and no appointment is necessary. Just pop in for a browse and friendly chat.

Teresa explained: "We make brides, their mums and family members very welcome. We cater for all their needs in a relaxed, calm environment.

"We're here to make their big day special."

My Favourite Pet and Sleek & Chic provide great services for pet lovers.

My Favourite Pet, Care 4 Pets and Sleek and Chic run by Alison Moya provide every conceivable pet need.

Alison said: "We supply a wide range of dog foods – Canagan, Aatu, hypoallergenic, raw food – and people should keep an eye out for our regular 'deal of the week'."

She also has products that can make life easier for dog owners.

There's the EzyDog range of leads, collars and harnesses. You can get leads that dry quickly on a wet day, shock-absorbing leads to protect those with shoulder problems and 'plate harnesses' for broad-chested dogs.

The staff are fully trained to explain how harnesses should be fitted.

Alison explained: "We started with the agency which provides 'home boarding' for dogs, so they don't have to go to kennels, which can be stressful. Instead, they can go to a carer's home.

"We also provide dog walking, house visiting for smaller animals, or homes with multiple pets – everyone is CRB checked."

My Favourite Pet, is open from Monday to Saturday 9am to 5pm.

It also has a range of specialist dog foods – Symply, Lily's Kitchen, Royal Canin, Burns, fish4dogs, Barking Heads, James Welbeloved and Nature's: menu – the sorts of brands you can't always get in the supermarkets.

The store also supplies other animal foods, including bird seeds.

Alison moved dog grooming next door to 'Sleek & Chic'. The salon is light, airy and air-conditioned.

In the future, Alison and other traders are hoping to form a Park Crescent Traders Association to represent the interests of local businesses, raise the area's profile and organise special events.

McKellen shines in an otherwise dull spin on Holmes...

HAVING been brought to life by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle 128 years ago, the last few years have seen a rise in Sherlock Holmes on screen.

Guy Ritchie kickstarted the craze in 2009 with the first of his two films, starring Robert Downey Jr as the detective, while Steven Moffat and Mark Gatiss brought a modern day version of the character, starring Benedict Cumberbatch, to TV screens a year later.

Throw in the American series Elementary, with Jonny Lee Miller as Sherlock, and you have plenty of Holmes to keep you entertained.

The latest actor to take on such an indelible character is Ian McKellen in Mr Holmes, a film that is based on the book A Slight Trick Of The Mind by Mitch Cullin. Set in 1947, Holmes, now 93, has retired and lives in a remote cottage cared for by his housekeeper Mrs Munro (Laura Linney) and her son Roger (Milo Parker).

Struggling to cope with the slow deterioration of his mind, we flashback to Holmes' past and the case that sent him into retirement, and also to a trip to Japan where Holmes undertakes to find a mysterious plant that could save his mind...

The concept of seeing the great Sherlock Holmes in his dotage is a clever, and indeed intriguing one; after all, great fictional characters, literary or otherwise, are very rarely shown at any other time than in their pomp. In execution, however, Mr Holmes is a dull and slow film that has its charms, but is overwhelming in its torpor.

It has a very 'Sunday evening' feel about it, which can't always be levied as a negative, but in this case it very much is; in a film of quiet reflectiveness, it just feels too slow and un-engaging, despite the best efforts of a cast that is predictably very good.

It's a pleasure to see Sir Ian McKellen outside of the word of blockbusters and getting the opportunity to dig beneath the surface of a character, even one as well worn as Sherlock Holmes, and bring him to life. Whether it's as Holmes investigating what turns out to be his last case, or as the Holmes whose bouts of forgetfulness shine a light on his mental decline, McKellen is as engaging a presence as you would expect.

His performance is the key ingredient to the film, but with the likes of Laura Linney alongside him, the acting quality is high, while young Milo Parker shares a tender chemistry with Holmes,

by GARETH JAMIESON
Follow Screen
Talk on Twitter -

their relationship forming the emotional core of the film, and one that pays off in quite a dramatic fashion.

What is less engaging are the story strands of the piece. The one that frames the film, showing Holmes' mind declining, is by far the most satisfying to watch, a study of a once great man becoming a shell of his former self.

However, the strand that deals with the case that drove him into retirement has a flimsy structure and a sad, weak denouement, while the Japan strand, save for a last act grace note, feels entirely superfluous to proceedings.

In the director's chair, Bill Condon (who had previously worked with McKellen on Gods and Monsters, winning him a best actor Oscar nomination in the process, in a film that isn't a million miles away from this one) directs with a steady hand and wonderful feel for the subject matter and the period. Austere, but beautifully shot, Condon marshals the film exceptionally well.

It's just a shame that despite these good points, the overarching feel of Mr Holmes is that of a slowly paced offering that doesn't grip you in the way it should. A clever idea that struggles in execution, it's a dull offering.

VERDICT - Taking a different tack from the slew of Sherlock Holmes-related adventures we've seen in recent years, Mr Holmes has pedigree but fails to turn that into an engaging film, the end product lacklustre and disappointing. Ian McKellen excels in the lead role, and is well supported by both Laura Linney and Milo Parker, but it's all a little too pedestrian in the end. Average.

SEE THIS IF YOU LIKED: Sherlock Holmes (2009), Gods and Monsters (1998).

RNLI members work together in order to help stricken yacht

PORTHCRAWL RNLI lifeboat Rose of the Shires launched on Saturday, June 20, to the assistance of a 30ft yacht that had lost its mast approximately seven miles south of Porthcawl.

The RNLI Atlantic 85 Lifeboat launched immediately, and made good speed to the yacht's position.

Volunteer RNLI helmsman Simon Emms said: "When we got to the yacht, we found two persons on board. The mast was snapped completely at its base, and was dragging in the water."

"Crew members Alex Denny and Nathan Evans were put on board to secure the mast and make sure the crew were safe."

We then put a tow on the yacht to keep it in a safe position away from the dangerous Nash Sands."

As the yacht was on its way to Barry, Barry Dock Off Shore Lifeboat was also launched, and took over the tow to take the yacht safely back to Barry.

Mr Phillip Missen, Lifeboat Operations Manager from Porthcawl RNLI, said: "This was a dangerous rescue, as with any demasted yacht, trying to get a lifeboat close to the yacht is tricky. Simon used his training and expertise to position the lifeboat alongside the yacht safely, avoiding all the ropes, wires and the mast itself in the water. The two lifeboat crew members who were put on board then had a hard job of getting the mast out of the water and securing it to the yacht."

PORTHCAWL... offering a warm welcome for visitors

by PHILIP IRWIN

It was Cassius Clay (shortly before he became Muhammad Ali) who came out with the line "It's hard to be humble when you're as great as I am!"

Now this may be a tenuous link, but it's a little bit like that when you are asked to write about Porthcawl when it is in the middle of a period of good weather.

After several days of walking along the seafront, taking in the blue waters of the Bristol Channel, it's hard not to get carried away with the town's plus points.

Porthcawl has been Bridgend county borough's only seaside resort for around 100 years now and, although many people would like to have seen more rapid change in the town's infrastructure, it's basic virtues are unchanging.

In Victorian times, ladies may have 'taken the air' with a short walk along the promenade, but now the town is the ideal starting point for short walks or lengthy treks.

You can head off through the hustle and bustle of the fun fair, and then on to Newton and beyond (all the way to Ogmore if you choose) or you can head west along the coastal path to Rest Bay and again, on past the Royal Porthcawl Golf Club and on to Sker Beach.

Bahia has been described as a 'Ladies Emporium' and as an 'Aladdin's Cave'!

The town's attractions to visitors are clear on any warm weekend, as so many people stroll along the coastal path, or perhaps find a pub with outside seating where they can watch the world go by.

All these visitors bring about economic activity, of course, and visitors will be rewarded by browsing through Porthcawl's shopping streets.

Town centres are under pressure these days of course – under attack from all the usual suspects – but new businesses keep on opening in the town, while existing ones continue to flourish.

Hearing and Mobility (see article on page 21) is an example of a new business that has just opened in Lias Road and which can offer goods and services to customers from around south Wales.

For local businessman

The are big plans for Jennings Building, which is alongside Porthcawl Marina.

Mark Moss, it means that the 17th branch of his company is in his home town!

One relative newcomer to the town is Bahia, a boutique run by Pam Williams on New Road (Station Hill) as it is universally referred to by locals).

Pam is typical of owner entrepreneurs who offer something different, and she is celebrating her second anniversary of trading in the town.

She said: "It has been two good years, I've made lots of new friends and have had plenty of compliments about the boutique".

She sells clothes, shoes, handbags, jewellery and accessories, and has been called a 'Ladies Emporium' or an 'Aladdin's Cave' – she's happy with either.

She said: "I think Station Hill is really picking up again as a shopping centre, and there's definitely a lot more to Porthcawl than just John Street."

Quite a number of similarly-minded owners have also been attracted to the town. Porthcawl does have its chain stores, but not that many.

About as far away from a chain store as you can get is SUSSED on James Street (by the bandstand on John Street) where the items on sale have been sourced from ethical and Fairtrade suppliers.

Primary school pupils get a taste of 'big school'

A TOTAL of 190 pupils from 16 primary schools enjoyed an exciting and fun-packed day at Porthcawl Comprehensive this week (see photo on page 22).

Pupils followed a sample timetable, enjoying lessons in music, drama and science to name just a few. Lunch was served in the school canteen and year-6 pupils were ably supported by year-12 students.

It was lovely to see the year-6 pupils mixing so well and already beginning to make new friends. We hope that the day gave them a real insight into what comprehensive school is all about and perhaps allayed some of their fears about leaving primary school.

Many thanks to all those who made it such a successful day, both pupils and staff.

THE SIDOLI FAMILY CELEBRATES 55 YEARS OF ITALIAN CAFE TRADITION

SIDOLI'S has been family-run for 55 years.

Originally opened by Pietro and Gianna Sidoli in 1960, the business is now run by their two sons, Mario and Tino.

The family also took over Pietro's 20 years ago, and their Esplanade venue boasts 15 to 20 assorted ice cream flavours and is favoured as an alfresco/mingling, suntrap/sea view must!

Sidoli's has opted for the popular strawberry and vanilla ice cream favourites.

Both serve panninis, toasties, popular main meals, a gateaux selection and their 'signature' – freshly ground Italian coffee and home-made ice cream – you choose...

A warm welcome is assured.

NEW HEARING AND MOBILITY STORE OPENS IN PORTHCAWL

IT may have rained all day, but it didn't dampen the spirits of Porthcawl's Mayor Coun David Newton-Williams and consort Gaynor Williams, at the ribbon cutting ceremony of Porthcawl's brand new Hearing and Mobility store in Lias Road (opposite the Co-Op) on Saturday, June 13.

On hand to give out glasses of Bucks Fizz to customers were Craig Hosken, Porthcawl store manager, Samantha Marchesi, sales director and Mark Moss, chairman of Hearing and Mobility.

Mark, who lives in Porthcawl and is very involved in the Porthcawl local business community, said: "We're very excited with this latest store opening, taking our total Hearing and Mobility UK branches to 17, and it's made more special for me being my home town, to be able to offer local people a one stop shop for all their hearing and mobility needs."

Hearing and Mobility offer an expert hearing care and wax removal service with their resident audiologist, Mark's daughter, Louise Moss. Mayor Newton-Williams was keen to be the first in line for a free hearing screening test.

Hearing and Mobility also stock a huge range of mobility products, including stairlifts, scooters, wheelchairs, rise and recline chairs and electric bikes. From their shop in the town centre, they hire out scooters, wheelchairs and tri-walkers, providing a valuable service both for residents and visitors to Porthcawl.

Porthcawl looks toward the future

By necessity, this means finding suppliers who are not mainstream, and it means that the shop offers a distinctive range of goods.

Of course, visitors like to stop for a break and the town is not short of places to keep the customer satisfied.

More coffee bars have opened over the last two years, including the Coast in Dock Street, where series four of Stella was filmed (it was Little Alun's cafe).

A Costa Coffee is on the way but it will face plenty of competition from the town's established cafe owners.

Meanwhile, the town's restaurants continue to thrive and Porthcawl can boast cuisine inspired by Portugal, Italy, India, Spain and China – not to mention that essential of any seaside town, fish and chips.

By my estimate, the town has five in the town and several more serving the fairground!

Porthcawl also has enough pubs to give someone looking for a quiet drink plenty of choice, whether that be on a show along the sea front, or in a quieter area, in one of the town's side streets.

Another attraction in the town is the Porthcawl Museum in John Street, which has extended its operations and opens for longer hours, giving visitors an insight into the town's history in the days before it was a seaside resort.

Change is on the way in the town, too. A recent refurbishment to the town's harbour – converting it into a marina – is starting to bear fruit, with the improved harbour has triggered interest in Jennings Building.

The building is a listed building – due to its historical significance as a relic of Porthcawl's past as a thriving port, rather than its architectural beauty.

However, plans have been submitted to make it a place to visit, with a restaurant and cafes that open out onto the quayside.

There would also be small business units and flats that are designed to keep it busy in all weathers.

There are also plans for a maritime centre nearby, although this is still in the early stages.

Change is never rapid in Porthcawl, and this has meant that the town has leant heavily on its natural assets – its Blue Flag beaches and beautiful coastline.

It has added a number of festivals and attractions – a jazz festival and, of course, the Elvis Festival.

Golf has gained a higher profile, with the Royal Porthcawl hosting the British Seniors Championship, while surfing, cycling, and windsurfing enthusiasts all find what they are looking for in Porthcawl.

The town's natural assets have helped it ride out rough times, have kept the town popular with visitors, and Porthcawl is looking forward to another traditional summer on the south Wales coast!

ABOVE: Porthcawl Comprehensive School played host to 190 pupils from 16 primary schools during an exciting day recently. The aim of the day was to help integrate year-6 pupils in preparation for the new school year in September, and the pupils had a great time undertaking a range of classes – September can't come quick enough!

Top IT suite is available for community use

ABOVE: Members of the local community using the state-of-the-art IT equipment at Castleland Community Centre.

THE IT manager for Castleland Community Centre, Barry, is keen to see local organisations take advantage of its state-of-the-art suite of computers.

Neil Moore told The GEM that he wanted charities, community groups and businesses to know that the suite was available for hire at reasonable rates to cover costs.

The suite was funded by the Communities Facilities and Activities Programme (CFAP) and cost £18,685.

Neil explained: "We can accommodate a minimum one hour booking, a few weeks or a booking over a 12 month period – we're very flexible."

"We can even provide access to the building via a 'fob' so people can run evening sessions."

"I am more than happy to work with an organisation's software requirements."

"The 10 machines all have Windows 8.1, the latest released system for Windows, and high spec graphic cards. They also have the latest version of Office Suite. We have a full laser colour A3 printer – people can print off A3 posters for a charge. There isn't another suite this modern in Barry!"

The suite has already been used to run Welsh Education Authority courses, by Remploy, charities and a local business.

The community centre also has meeting/training rooms, a volunteer run cafe and toilets.

If your organisation is interested in using the IT suite, email it@dicdevelopmenttrust.com; or phone 01446 701285.

Penarth Summer Festival – 'LET US ENTERTAIN YOU'

Exotic belly dancers bringing colour to the parade.

THE Summer Festival Programme for 2015 has many things to look forward to.

The festival runs from Thursday, July 2 to Sunday, July 12, with Carnival Day taking place on July 11 at the Esplanade and Cliff Top.

A Penarth Town Council spokeswoman said: "A huge thank you must go out to all those who have taken the time to organise the individual events for the people of Penarth. It is because of these people that the festival has proven to be so popular over the years."

"There are so many great things taking place on Carnival Day – make sure you don't miss out."

"At 11.45am, the RAF Falcons Parachute Display Team will jump from their aeroplane and parachute onto the cliff top from a height of 12,000ft."

"The spectacular Vulcan XH558 Bomber will then display at the Esplanade at approximately 12.15pm to really kick-start the day's events. The Vulcan is in its final display year and will never be seen again after the summer season so don't miss out."

"The Carnival Parade will leave West House promptly at 12.30pm making its way to the Esplanade to delight the crowds while the classic cars will display along the cliff top path alongside the go-kart track and donkey rides.

...and there's a cracking firework display!

"The BRO Radio Roadshow will be providing the on-stage presence at the Penarth Festival Carnival from 12 noon and introduce the local bands throughout the day and evening. Bands such as Lewis Clayton and the Cyclones, Marconi Beach Sound, John Lewis and the Trion, Fun House and Session make for a superb music festival line up."

Friends get £4,000 boost for churchyard project

FRIENDS of St Augustine's Church, Penarth, have been awarded a 'pre-project' grant from Environment Wales of £4,048 to carry out a survey to establish whether their plans for the churchyard are viable.

For some time, the Friends have been thinking about how they could do something to make the churchyard more accessible to those who want to visit graves, and to make better use of its size and position – it has one of the best views in the town.

They came up with a project they have called 'Habitat and Heritage' to protect existing wildlife and plants in designated areas, create paths and places to sit, while repairing and restoring damaged tombs and graves.

Some of the tombs are of historic interest and these will be recorded and information made available to visitors. The tomb in memory of Joseph Parry is a good example.

Tricia Griffiths, current chair of the Friends, wants to ensure maintain, and we worry about how people will be able to visit some graves safely unless something is done. The intention is to make the whole area more attractive and a place where people can visit the graves of loved ones, admire the view, enjoy the wildlife and learn about the more historic graves and tombs."

The Friends know that this is potentially a very big project and they want to involve and consult the local community at every stage. They have engaged the Wildlife Trust for South and West Wales to carry out the initial survey and there will be opportunities for local people to help with various aspects of this.

On completion of the survey, a report will be produced showing whether the Habitat and Heritage is possible.

"If it is," say the Friends, "we will then sit down and think about grants and who will be needed to get the project off the ground."

"Wherever possible we want to use local people with the appropriate knowledge and skills."

Classical recital
YOUNG classical guitarist, Jonathan Parkin, visited St Augustine's Church recently to check out the venue prior to his recital on Saturday, July 4, at 2.15pm.

Jonathan, who is appearing at the invitation of the Friends of St

Augustine's, was bowled over by the church itself, and by the acoustic, which he described as "amazing". Jonathan will be playing pieces by Bach, Tansman, Ponce and Roussel. Entry, £3 on the door – under-16s free.

It is hoped that people coming for the recital will stay to look at the extensive exhibition that has been set up by the 'Lost Lives Remembered' group. This includes histories of some of the men named on the Roll of Honour, memorabilia from the Firing Line Museum at Cardiff Castle, letters of thanks to Stanwell Old Boys who served in World War One from current pupils, and more about World War One.

Young farmers hoist the flag at annual rally

THE annual rally day of Glamorgan Young Farmers' Club proved to be a treasure chest of success at its new location of Slade Farm Organics in St Brides Major.

The competition day is a highlight of the YFC calendar and saw members from the seven Glamorgan clubs go head to head in a diverse selection of competitions, many of which act as eliminators for the Royal Welsh Show in July.

The theme set by Wales YFC for 2015 was 'pirates and the high seas' which was adopted by all YFC counties and clubs throughout Wales.

There are a number of compulsory competitions that each club must enter such as the Treasurer's Book, Minute Book, promotional sign and scrapbook.

Aside from these, there are a whole host of competitions from craft and cookery to performance and rural skills catering for the YFC membership age of 10 to 26.

There was a brilliant turnout of competitors and visitors who watched competitions and browsed the different information stands. Glamorgan YFC continues to go from strength to strength and provide members with a range of opportunities, supported by the generosity of local businesses and individuals.

Glamorgan YFC county chairperson, Kath Campbell, said: "We have been overwhelmed by the interest and support at rally day this year. There really isn't another organisation which sees youngsters performing on stage one minute and bricklaying the next."

"On behalf of the county federation, may I extend my thanks to Slade Farm Organics for hosting the day and to all the sponsors and volunteers who make the day possible and help things to run smoothly."

The YFC calendar continues in earnest with the breed stockjudging competition on Sunday, June 28, which requires competitors to judge a ring of four animals based on their breeding points and then give reasons to a judge within a two-minute time restriction.

If you are interested in becoming a member or would like to find out more about Glamorgan YFC, please visit www.glamorganyfc.co.uk, or contact county organiser, Gwyneth Thomas on 07779 331839 or email Glamorgan@yfc-wales.org.uk. ## Conservative leader opposes Labour plan to merge councils

COMMENTING on the Labour government's new 'map' for council reorganisation – which could see the number of Welsh councils cut from 22 to single figures – regional AM

Andrew RT Davies said: "This process has been a shambles from start to finish and I have little confidence in Labour's ability to take it forward."

"Ultimately, while everyone agrees that the cost of politics needs to be reduced, steamrolling local opinion is not the way to take this forward."

On what the plans mean for the Vale, he said: "All along we have said that any reforms of the council structure should be driven by local voices. If communities want it – and if councils can prove they can boost efficiency with a merger – no-one should stand in their way."

"It's also important that we ask ourselves what roles councils are to be expected to play after a restructuring. How can we be sure that we have the right model in place, if we don't know what councils are going to be expected to do?"

Awards for dedicated volunteers in the community

A BARRY breast cancer campaigner and a charity born out of a Maesteg tragedy were among 17 individuals and groups whose dedication to helping others was rewarded at the 2015 Wales Volunteer of the Year Awards on June 18.

The Wales Council for Voluntary Action (WCVA) event took place at The Pierhead, Cardiff Bay, hosted by WCVA vice-president, Tom Jones OBE.

Winners in the six nomination categories of trustees, international volunteers, adults, groups, 'green' volunteers and young people (under 25 years) were presented with their awards by event sponsor, Lesley Griffiths AM, Minister for Communities and Tackling Poverty.

Awards

Adult category – Pam Allinson: After receiving treatment for breast cancer, Pam Allinson's campaigning for lower hospital waiting times has achieved policy change at the highest level.

Diagnosed with the disease in 2003, Barry resident Pam has been 'extraordinarily active' in the breast cancer community in Wales, said Rachel Hodson, Community Engagement Officer for Breast Cancer Campaign and Breakthrough Breast Cancer charity, the UK's largest breast cancer research charity.

She has given up countless hours to lobby and influence politicians and health professionals and her work on referral waiting times has seen her meet health ministers and top cancer specialists in the Welsh NHS.

As a trained Breakthrough representative, Pam has also given health awareness talks to educate both women and men on how to reduce their risk of breast cancer and how to check for the signs and symptoms, as well as providing information about the latest breast cancer research to many groups and individuals.

Before her campaign, women with urgent suspected breast cancer faced a wait to see a specialist of up to six weeks. Now all women referred urgently are expected to be seen within 10 working days.

Pam also organises meetings in Barry for a local support group, Cardiff and Vale Breastfriends, which provides emotional and practical support to members experiencing a breast cancer diagnosis. Rachel Hodson added: "Her incredible volunteering aims to help everyone affected by breast cancer in Wales in some way."

Before she was diagnosed with breast cancer, Pam worked as a primary school teacher, but due to complications after her treatment and other health issues, she had to take early retirement.

"I still wanted to be active in the community and through volunteering with Breakthrough Breast Cancer, I was able to take forward issues I was concerned about and hopefully help improve the situation for people diagnosed with breast cancer in Wales," she said.

"I feel very humbled to receive this award. The third sector, particularly in the area of health, provides so much extra support for patients."

"I know lots of people who give a great deal of their time to volunteer with charities – supporting others, campaigning for the best deal for those with health issues and raising vital funds for research, etc. In a way, this award is for all of them, too – a recognition of the amazing voluntary work that goes on in Wales every day."

Group category – The Garnwen Trust

A MAESTEG charity born out of tragic circumstances has brought together the local community by organising hugely popular social events to raise money for a local woodland cabin

'haven'.

In 2007, Maesteg residents Margaret and Richard Collins lost their only son Alex and his girlfriend Beth in a plane crash in Thailand. The young couple had dreamt of seeing as much of the world as they could after getting their degrees, but died only a day into their travel plans when the plane taking them to their second port of call crashed, killing over 90 onboard.

Margaret and Richard decided to develop something positive to help people who had faced adversity at some point in their lives, in memory of their son. So they formed the Garnwen Trust, with its first event – the sponsored 'Walk for AI' – raising more than £20,000.

The 'incredible' community support spurred the Trust to arrange two concerts in Maesteg Town Hall with the internationally famous band Funeral for a Friend and choir Only Boys Aloud, which sold out and raised over £18,000. The next fundraiser was Party in the Park at Maesteg Park, which has since become a landmark annual event, as has The Walk for AI.

The aim of the events is to pay for a cabin to be built at Afan Forest Park, serving as a base for educational visits such as field trips and the Duke of Edinburgh Award scheme, as well as a place where people can have quality family time together. To date, more than £250,000 has been raised.

"Richard and Margaret Collins suffered the greatest tragedy any parent or individual can ever suffer – the loss of their only child," said resident Charlotte Galsworthy.

"The Trust has succeeded in bringing the community together to not only support fundraising events but also to provide much needed social interaction of all ages, gender and diverse backgrounds within these communities."

Margaret said she and Richard were 'absolutely delighted' that the Garnwen Trust was nominated for Volunteer of the Year.

"We are a very small charity and it's a great honour to win such a prestigious award," she added. "Our trustees and the local community have been so supportive."

Ramblers enjoy the countryside around Dinas Powys area

SEVEN members of the Penarth and District Ramblers met leader Val Hartrey at the Twyn in Dinas Powys at the start of a four-mile local walk.

Setting off through the village onto the eastern end of Dinas Powys Common before crossing St Andrews Road and heading up the Twynyn, Barry Southwell kindly stepped in at the leader's request, as she was feeling unwell and had to return home.

The group continued uphill along the Beauville lane before pausing at the top to enjoy the views south eastwards to both Steep and Flat Holm, the misty English coastline, a cricket match in progress at Parc Bryn y Don and towards Sully and Barry.

Following the quiet lane past Coed Twynyn, Hales Wood and Beauville Wood, with brilliant views across the lower part of the Dinas Powys golf course and arriving at Beauville Farm, a rocky track led them downhill into the valley and across the bridge over the Wrinstone Brook.

Entering a meadow adjacent to Wrinstone House through a metal kissing gate, one of many that have replaced worn stiles in the area, several cows with their calves gazed at the group as they passed by, dropping gradually downhill along narrow woodland paths beside the Wrinstone Brook, to exit alongside the salmon leaps where the pretty lakes were obscured from view by tall nettles and other foliage.

Following Cwrt-yr-Ala Road downhill to a newly-installed gate and crossing the old stone footbridge over the Cadoxton River, rough farm tracks led uphill past cropped fields to Cwm Genoe.

Then, leaving the main track and entering a peaceful buttercup-filled meadow, they deviated past Ty'n y Coed, passing through several more metal kissing gates with glorious views of the stunning copper beeches in the wood.

An old sunken lane led them uphill onto the Dinas Powys golf course and they returned to the Twyn via Highwalls Avenue. Best wishes are sent to Val for a speedy recovery.

On June 27, meet at 9.30am at Cogan Leisure Centre for a nine-mile hard walk taking in Llangorse Lake, Llangasty and the ridge way; contact Jan/John on 01446 418514.

On July 2, meet at 7pm at The Downs, St Nicholas (off A48) for a 3.5-mile easy walk around St Nicholas and Wenvoe; contact Val on 01446 734925.

Wear suitable clothing, preferably boots and carry waterproofs, food and drinks. Programmes and membership advice can be obtained from Pam on 029 2025 5102.

May is the busiest month for Camera Club

THE first meeting of the month was on Friday, May 1, and the chairman opened the meeting with the news that out of the thousands of entries for the prestigious Cheltenham Salon of Photography, two members had had entries accepted.

Congratulations to Mike Lewis with one acceptance and Tina Haydon who had two images accepted.

The meeting continued with a presentation by Allen Lloyd ARPS, AWPF of his work. Allen is a highly-regarded natural history and landscape photographer who specialises in using early morning light to enhance his images.

He often works in extreme conditions and showed many images of his work in Yellowstone National Park taken in late January and February, when night temperatures can drop as low as -40C and day temperatures can get as mild as -15C!

The roads are blocked by snowfall and access is almost impossible except with specialised transport. It takes an enormous amount of dedication to produce work in those conditions and the members were in awe of Allen's commitment to his art.

Images included landscapes, shots of geyser eruptions and many wildlife shots including bison, elk, Canada geese, otters, deer, coyotes, pine martens, wild turkeys and even the rarely seen wild bobcat, which is normally a nocturnal animal.

But not all of Yellowstone is covered in snow at this time and we saw some interesting images showing how hard it is to live in such conditions.

Machinery tends to suffer badly, and Allen showed some pictures of how badly cars could rust in a series of pictures he took in a scrapyard. Finally, he brought us back to somewhere more accessible with a series of images taken in and around the Brecon Beacons, but again predominantly taken in the early morning or late evening in the sort of weather conditions that would have had most of us scurrying for the car!

Allen also showed another side to his photography with a series of lovely images of the Wye Valley and Severn Estuary, which not only served as high quality pictorial photography but also incorporated many shots showing Allen's love of bird photography.

He wound up the evening by giving us a short question and answer session explaining his techniques, how he overcomes the challenges of the work he undertakes and subjects such as the logistics of such an expedition, the equipment needed and the inevitable (serious!) costs involved.

This was one of the most interesting nights we have had in a long time and look forward to having Allen back with us in the future.

Friday, May 8 saw a talk entitled 'Colour Creativity - Looking For Pictures' by our own member Brian Trego. Brian is a highly experienced photographer who showed us many examples of his work and explained how he uses a combination of light and mood to create pictures that tell a story to the viewer.

Back lighting was used for some of his work but Brian favours side lighting to create shadows that in some circumstances can give an almost 3D image. Some of the prints showed highly creative use of smoke, mist and cloud to create mood and the careful use of curved lines to lead the eye to a critical focal point within the image.

Brian then went on to show us examples of movement shown in a picture created by the deliberate use of a slow shutter speed, and finished off the evening by showing a series of pictures of flowers photographed using differential focus, very effectively keeping the flower in the foreground sharp with the distracting background out of focus, keeping the viewer's attention on the primary subject.

Thank you, Brian, for a very interesting and informative evening.

May 15 saw us at the Casa Paco restaurant for our annual dinner and presentation of prizes. The judge this year was Jan Cawley EFIAP/s, Hon FWPF, who was very pleased with not only the quality of the images given to her, but also the quantity, and remarked how well contested the various classes were and compared this very favourably with other camera clubs in Wales. Jan awarded prizes as follows:

The Hansen Cup for monochrome landscape/seascape print:

First place - Roy Carr for 'Salt Cellar Rock'.

Second place - Brian Trego for 'First Light In The Glen'.

Third place - Glen Porter for 'Helvellyn'.

Highly commended were Roy Carr for 'Bigswear Bridge' and Rob Owens for 'Channel Crossing'.

The TJ Lewis Cup for monochrome portrait print:

The last Friday of May is traditionally the date of our annual general meeting and this year's AGM brought an end to our winter season.

May sees the end of the winter programme with a new programme which started on June 6 with the annual Barrian Cup and Dave Cowdrey Trophy. Approximately 20 clubs from Wales and the west of England competed for these trophies.

Throughout the remainder of 2015 we have a full programme of talks, demonstrations, photographic expeditions, competitions and inter-club battles planned.

New members are particularly encouraged and will be made most welcome with a programme being prepared especially for the new and less experienced photographers to allow them to quickly gain more proficiency and satisfaction from their hobby.

Barry Camera Club meets every Friday evening from 7pm to 9.30pm at St Francis Millennium Centre, Porth-y-Castell, Barry Garden Suburb, Barry, CF62 6NX. We are a very friendly organisation and new members of all experience and skill levels are always welcome to attend with no obligation to join. ## FRIENDS AND NEIGHBOURS GROUP VISITS TEWKESBURY

FRIENDS and Neighbours Senior Citizen Group had a great day out with a visit to the medieval market town of Tewkesbury.

As they reached the town, they marvelled at the magnificent Tewkesbury Abbey, which dominated the town built in the 12th century.

They wandered around the town and found an array of shops, bistros, pubs and tea rooms, many of them keeping their original Tudor design.

With the sun shining, many of the members took a leisurely stroll along the river banks and a relaxing cruise along the river.

A visit to the town hall was not to be missed, with crafts on sale and demonstrations, as well as the local church knitting display.

The Wednesday market was enjoyed by many who came back with their bargains.

They are all looking forward to the annual summer mystery trip in August.

Medical team is praised

THE British Society of Gastroenterology has recognised the endoscopy team at University Hospital Llandough (UHL) as world class.

The Endoscopy Unit from UHL recently took part in Endolive UK which is the largest live endoscopy event in the UK to showcase the best of British Endoscopy.

Four UK centres were involved, including UHL, showing live endoscopy cases to over 550 delegates of consultants, nurse endoscopists and trainees at the event held in Birmingham.

The team at University Hospital Llandough was headed by Dr Sunil Dolwani and carried out seven live cases which were all successful and showcased colonoscopic procedures. UHL was selected because of its expertise in undertaking state of the art procedures as well as its work in training and teaching.

Dr Ian Forgacs,

President of the British Society of Gastroenterology, said: "By common consent of the very large audience this was the best demonstration of live endoscopy ever seen in this country. University Hospital Llandough should be exceptionally proud of the performance of the whole team of endoscopists, nurses and all the staff who put on the most professional display."

Dr Dolwani said: "We are proud to be one of the centres selected which is as a result of our reputation in undertaking complex therapeutic endoscopic procedures to a level only a handful of centres in the UK do."

"As a team we carry out live events for training every year but this is by far the biggest and best live event we have been part of."

Cardiff and Vale University Health Board currently carries out 10,000 endoscopy procedures every year but are striving to increase that number to 13,000.

CHOIR'S NEW MATERIAL FOR ANNUAL CONCERT

Soloist Jessica Rees.

COWBRIDGE Male Voice Choir made a return visit after four years to Bethany Baptist Church in Rhiwbina on June 20, singing in aid of the Cardiff branch of Leukaemia and Lymphoma Research.

This was the last performance before the annual concert in Cowbridge Leisure Centre on Saturday, July 25, and so it was an opportunity to perform some of the pieces the choir will be performing there.

Some of these pieces haven't been sung by us for many years, and it was a new experience for some choristers. One of these, Cavalry of the Steppes goes at a rollicking pace and you can almost hear the drumming of the horses' hooves - our musical director Shelley had a job to keep us reined in as we can go galloping off out of control.

Another old favourite is the German 'round' Sing Dem Herrn, a song in which the choir has to keep a very close eye on the conductor so that we know when and where to finish the song.

The soprano soloist was Jessica Rees, who sang a selection of well-known songs from the musicals and popular genres. The choir finished off the concert with a medley of Beatles' songs during which the audience was invited to join in, especially at the end of Hey Jude, when choristers waved their raised hands back and forth, almost in unison.

Members learn about Dyffryn

AT the June meeting of Bontfaen WI, there was a talk with slides from Ceridwen Davies of Dyffryn about the re-establishment of two walled kitchen gardens.

The before and after shots showed the hard work done by the workers and the volunteers.

Margaret Price gave her account of her trip to the Albert Hall for the centenary annual meeting.

Earlier in the month, members walked around

Cowbridge on little-known pathways. Even long-time residents hadn't walked some of them. Afterwards, a tasty meal was had at the Duke of Wellington.

Next month we are going to the Everyman Theatre on July 9 for Sweet Charity and on July 16, a summer social at Wendy Pearce's house. This is the event when our Denman bursary is drawn for members.

We don't have a meeting in August, but will be going on our annual mystery trip on August 8.

Church hosts band from Louisiana

ON Monday, June 29 at 7.30pm, Vale Church is pleased to be hosting First West Band and Team Impact again this year at the Duke of Wellington, Cowbridge.

This is their fourth appearance in Cowbridge and they have always put on a great show. Entry is free and the bar will be open in the function room.

FWB play a mixture of jazz, blues and rock classics and the event is suitable for the whole family. Team Impact will also be performing their amazing feats of strength. We are hoping to see Randall again who impressed with his incredible biceps two years ago.

Our guests are part of a team of 50 volunteers who come from Monroe, Louisiana, every year and put on events in schools, care homes, clubs and various other community projects.

FWB and the rest of the team have a great reputation in Bridgend, where the schools look forward to them coming back every year.

We get the impression that performing in Cowbridge is the highlight of their week so please come along and support. You can follow them on Facebook at Bridgend Louisiana Partnership.

Anniversary at Amelia Trust

ASDA presented a cheque to the Amelia Trust.

A RE-UNION event at Amelia Trust Farm took place on Saturday, June 20, with over 100 supporters, staff and volunteers from the last 25 years paying a visit.

"Our 25th anniversary is a wonderful opportunity for us to look back and celebrate the great work that has been done, while at the same time looking forward to new developments and continuing to grow this work over the next 25 years," said Amelia Trust director, Karen Turnbull.

"We want to reach out and embrace as many people as possible in our celebratory year. The incorporation date for Amelia Trust Farm was on September 20, 1990, and the first staff moved onto the site in July 1991.

We are planning a number of different events over the next 12 months to mark our anniversary, including a special Harvest event on September 26."

The work of Amelia Trust relies heavily on volunteers and donations to deliver alternative education interventions to change the lives of vulnerable and disadvantaged young people for whom the school system is not working.

It also provides community engagement through access to facilities in a natural environment, such as working in partnership with Field Days Organic. The farm is open to the general public seven days a week so that they can enjoy the therapeutic countryside and woodland walks.

The new ASDA store in Barry donated £400 to the Amelia Trust Farm to cover the costs of the reunion event.

"We are delighted to be able to support such a worthy cause. Amelia Trust does great work in our local community," said Lynette Griffin from ASDA.

CYCLING has never been more popular in the Vale and around Wales, and this was evident recently when 15,000 enthusiasts tackled a challenging course of 88 miles on the Velothon.

The massive peloton made its way through Newport and Cardiff before heading out into the Welsh countryside.

The event seems to be certain to be held again next year, although it is thought that discussions over the extensive road closures that were evident this year will be taking place.

In Cardiff, however, where Glyn Evans took these pictures, there were smiles everywhere!

Disappointing loss for Pencoed CC

PENCOED Cricket returned to league action on Saturday at home to Ton Pentre.

The team were missing several players due to work and holidays and gave debuts to Chris Young and Paul Drayton. Pencoed won the toss and asked Ton Pentre to bat first, which seemed a good decision when Young made an impressive start with four quick wickets to leave Ton Pentre in trouble at 52-4.

Aided by some poor bowling and some undisciplined fielding Ton Pentre were able to recover and post 228-8, with Young the pick of the bowlers with five wickets.

With over 70 extras against them Pencoed should really have restricted Ton Pentre to a more manageable score. In response Pencoed lost both openers cheaply and only Martin Mills with 25 and skipper James Smith with an elegant 50 offered any resistance and Pencoed were all out for 146.

Despite the defeat it was good to see two new players making their debut for the club as well as the return of two other players from last season. Youngster Ben Ashton returning alongside club legend Graham Davies who was coaxed out of retirement.

Pencoed will hope to return to winning ways this week away to Welsh Asians and are always on the lookout for new players to join the club either at adult or youth level; if interested contact Martin Mills on 07890 625936.

Men bowlers just miss out on victory

LLANTWIT MAJOR men's bowlers' Munro cup match on Wednesday evening was played in unpleasant conditions of rain and mist.

Despite this it was a friendly game against Romilly played in the right spirit; Llantwit won on three rinks but still lost the match, 56-59.

Graham Jones' rink, after losing the first end, were never again behind against the Mel Newman-led rink in a close contested match. Llantwit won the final two ends to win by four shots.

Steve Booker's rink, in another close game, took the lead on the third end when they scored three shots. Another three shots on the 14th end gave them a cushion, allowing them to win by two shots.

Arthur Hayes' rink lost their winning streak against a strong Romilly rink skipped by Graham Cogbill.

Llantwit were seven shots down after three ends after scoring two shots on the fourth end; Llantwit went further behind when Romilly scored another six shots over the next three ends, and Llantwit managed only eight more shots for the rest of the game to go down quite heavily.

Neville Young's rink were four shots down after seven ends; a change of length jack by Llantwit brought dividends, taking the lead on the 12th end scoring three shots. Llantwit won the final two ends to win by four shots.

Llantwit's league fixture on Saturday was against close neighbours Cowbridge.

Always a friendly game, this did not extend to the result, with Llantwit maintaining their unbeaten run in the league, sending Cowbridge home empty handed, losing on all rinks, 106-52.

Charles Hiscock's rink were the top scoring rink, 10 shots up after three ends including a six on the second end. Another 14 shots over five ends midway through the match piled on the agony with Llantwit finally winning by 26 shots.

Graham Jones' rink took a seven shot lead after five ends while always in control of the game; Llantwit won without playing at their best by nine shots.

Steve Booker's rink had an exciting and close game, trailing by six shots after eight ends; Llantwit were still in arrears until they drew level on the 18th end before going behind again on the next end.

A super shot by Tom Ingvroville on the final end clinched the win for Llantwit by one shot.

Neville Young's rink scored five shots on the third end which put them in front. A further six shots on the sixth end put Llantwit 10 shots ahead and Cowbridge were only able to score six single shots for the rest of the game to lose by 18 shots.

Centurions are beaten by the Duckworth-Lewis method!

SULLY Centurions' first XI took the long trip to Brecon and were unlucky to lose out to the hosts after a frustrating day of rain delays.

Batting first, Centurions made a decent start but after reaching 100 there was a big collapse, going from 102 for 3 to 134 all out. Shaee Ellis continued his good run of form with the bat to register 50, but only three others made it into double figures.

The rain was to prove a constant factor in both innings and eventually the umpires had to revert to the use of the Duckworth-Lewis method to get a result.

The home side made a poor start, with Lloyd Bruce (2 for 37) and Santosh (1 for 6) reducing Brecon to 31 for 3 after 9 overs. But Phillips (29 not out) and Williams (22 not out) steadied the ship and eventually reached the revised target of 101 in the 22nd over.

Brecon 101 for 3, Sully Centurions 134 all out (Brecon win via D/L method).

The seconds lost two players due to last minute unavailability so took to the field against Dinas Powys with just nine men.

The visitors batted first and made 58 for the first wicket, when Luke Burnett bowled Culey for 19.

Then Preston (56) was joined by Wingren and the pair put on another 34 before Burnett struck again in the 14th over, having Wingren caught for 11.

Josh Bryan removed Preston with the score on 104 to give Centurions some hope, but another half century stand gave Dinas the advantage.

Wickets began to fall but the runs kept on coming and the visitors racked up an impressive 314 all out.

For Sully, Ricky Griffith (3 for 65) was the main wicket taker, with support from Iwan Thomas (2 for 31) and Luke Burnett (2 for 54).

After tea Centurions set about their reply with makeshift opening pair Ricky Griffith (10) and Steve Morse (28) putting on 19, followed by a stand of 33 between Morse and Bryan.

But 52 for 2 became 105 all out, as the wickets began to tumble. A bit of resistance from Jason Hicks (19) at the end helped the score along, but the game was all over in the 33rd over when Dave Sylvester was out LBW to Marlow for 3.

Sully Centurions 1105 all out, Dinas Powys 11314 all out.

Good result for Millwood

MILLWOOD played hosts to Penarth Windsor in the seventh game of the Munro Cup, and came out winning with a margin of 15 shots, 90-75, even playing two of the rinks a man down! A bit of a good result it must be said!

With the score at 20-20 in favour of Millwood after five ends, Penarth had to try their best to reduce the deficit, but after 10 ends had been played the Millwood lead had increased to 45 shots to 24.

As the game progressed, the next five ends saw no change in Millwood's lead, still at 67-46. In the final quarter of the game, Penarth Windsor managed to steal back some shots off the Millwood lead, but alas not enough change the outcome of this encounter, which saw Millwood win by the 15 shot total.

Credit must go to the rink skipped by D. Gorringer for a 20 shot gap, plus the fact that Millwood were a man short on two of the four rinks!

Well played Millwood - we stand now at played 7, won 5, lost 2, keep it up lads! JH

MIXED WEEK FOR ROMILLY BOWLERS

A mixed week for Barry Romilly Bowling Club with wins in the Munro Cup, a good result by the A team away to Cyfarthfa Castle at Merthyr and a close but disappointing loss by the club side in the Carruthers Shield.

Barry Romilly club side entertained a strong team from Kidwelly in the first round proper of the FA Cup of bowls at Romilly Park. The opposition turned up by coach with a number of supporters who were vociferous in their support of their team and the Kidwelly players were also in high spirits during the game, helping each other with praise when good bowls were delivered.

In the early ends the game was tight with all Romilly rinks holding the initial charge made by their opponents and were just behind by the fifth end by just four shots. As the game progressed the game remained close overall with the rinks of Fred Phillips and Graham Cogbill both level at the end of the 10th at 7-7 and 9-9 respectively.

The other rinks of Mel Newman and Jeff Wright were having different games, Newman being down by 11 shots but Wright's rink balancing the situation leading by 8 shots, leaving the overall match very much in the balance at 32-35.

Newman's rink, although playing well, were against an inspired Kidwelly skip Colin Jones who was bowling superbly, turning over head after head with his last bowl and by the 15th end Romilly had won just four ends to Kidwelly's 11.

In the other games the rink of Phillips were battling hard and were holding a two shot advantage at the 15th end while Wright's rink had moved on to a nine shot lead, but Cogbill's rink had fallen three shots behind against a Kidwelly rink skipped by current Welsh international David Kingdom.

Going into the final ends the game was finely balanced at 45-49 in favour of the visitors; unfortunately although the 'Rom' players were fighting hard to turn the game around with Wright's rink picking up shots, the advantage was lost as Newman's rink dropped six shots over the last three ends once again due to the opposition skip bowling superb shots, leaving the Romilly rink to watch, unable to do anything about it.

On Phillips' rink, on the last two ends similarly while holding counts of five and a three, the skip drew shot on both ends, nullifying the possibility of an overall win.

The other rinks of Wright and Cogbill also played well but just could not attain enough shots as the Kidwelly side closed out the game, eventually winning by six shots, 54-70.

The game was played in good spirit and this continued after the game in the clubhouse where both sets of players along with supporters enjoyed the buffet and the bar facilities.

The Romilly A team travelled to Merthyr to play Cyfarthfa Castle in their fourth game of the season hoping to get a result to keep them at the top of the fifth division.

In previous seasons the 'Rom' have struggled against the Castle but this season Romilly have been strengthened by new players joining the club and are playing with the confidence of a team pushing for promotion.

This game was arguably going to be the hardest this season away from home so it was imperative that the 'Rom' got off to flying start and this they did going ahead by 12 shots by the fifth end; all Romilly rinks were ahead at this stage except Andrew Hatcher's rink who were level at 3-3.

The game remained positive in Romilly's favour and at the 10th end they had moved ahead by 18 shots, 43-25, mainly due to skip Tony Freeman's rink with Colin Davies, Mike Gronow and Bob Wyatt all bowling superbly, helping their rink to a 13 shot advantage at this stage.

The home team were not going to allow Romilly to dictate and as expected, from the 11th end the Castle players upped their game but by the 15th end had only reduced their deficit by three shots thanks to Freeman's rink, who continued to bowl well and now led by 17 shots.

The other Romilly rinks were now under severe pressure and were struggling to hold on to their lead; fortunately Freeman's rink continued to pick up shots and were 23 shots ahead at the final end.

Alfie Woodcock's rink, who had led up to the 16th end, fell behind by three shots but then picked up four shots on the last two ends to run out winners by just one shot.

The rinks of Andrew Hatcher and Howard Jones dropped 12 shots between them in the final ends but the 'Rom' had enough shots in the bag to hold on by five shots, winning overall by 76-71, and with two rinks winning Romilly took 10 points to Cyfarthfa Castle's four points.

The Barry Town Fans United team line up before the game!

Spoils are shared in supporters' encounter

THE summer spoils were shared in Saturday's 'Supporters' World Cup' match at Penybont FC, as Barry Town Fans United and Port Talbot Town Ultras contested an entertaining 2-2 draw.

At the tail end of an even first half, Ryan Lowe opened the scoring for Port Talbot from close range, only for Barry's Alex Davies to equalise shortly thereafter with a low strike from the edge of the box.

With honours even at the break, Port Talbot took charge once more in the second period, as Charlie Jones responded well to a rebound off the crossbar to restore his side's advantage.

However, Barry were not to be outdone and would restore parity from the penalty spot, as Nic Latham fired into the bottom corner beyond goalkeeper Anthony Tippet.

The Barrians may have won the match in its closing stages, were it not for Tippet making a fine near-post save to deny his seaside counterparts.

As it was though, the trophy was suitably shared. Special thanks to Barry kitman Matthew Case and all others who helped make the event a successful and enjoyable occasion.

YOUNG SPORTS COACHES TAKE THEIR FIRST STEPS

OVER the last academic year, nearly 450 volunteer hours have been clocked up by people taking the Vale Council's 'Coaches of the Future' scheme.

The Coaches of the Future scheme is designed to give young people in the Vale the opportunity to undertake and develop an involvement in coaching and sports leadership.

The programme aims to provide an introduction to coaching and volunteering by providing training and hands-on experience of coaching in schools and the community.

Coun Gwyn John, cabinet member for leisure, said: "This is an extremely exciting new initiative which will provide an invaluable insight into sports coaching. The impact that a coach can have on a young person is huge, helping to shape them not only as sportsmen and women, but as people too."

Rugby for under-11s

Barry charity wants to get people out on the water

ON Saturday, June 20, over 100 invited guests attended the official opening of the Barry Community Water Activities Centre on the Mole in Barry No 1 Dock.

The event marked the completion of the first part of a project which will ultimately provide an iconic, user-friendly building for use by everyone in the local community.

Work so far has seen the construction of a slipway into the dock, a car park, provision of pontoons, and temporary changing rooms and classroom at a cost of nearly £200,000.

The facility has been established by the Ocean Watersports Trust, a charity with the sole purpose of offering opportunities for everyone to be active on or near the water.

In his opening address, trust chairman Chris Basten said: "Today we can see the culmination of the hard work put in by all our volunteers over the last two years."

"We are particularly grateful to Associated British Ports for access to the water and use of the Mole, and to Grab It Plant Hire, who did a first class job on the construction of the new slipway."

The address was followed by a ceremonial cutting of the ribbon across the slipway by Heather Stephens, the High Sheriff of Glamorgan.

During the opening ceremony, the dock was alive with members of various organisations practicing their water sports activities, including a demonstration of sprint kayaking from members of Seren Dwr, canoeing and sailing by Barry Sea Scouts, stand-up paddling by members of Barry Windsurfing and Paddling, and rowing by Penarth Sea Cadets.

Barry District Scouts provided safety boats and offered VIP excursions around Barry No 1 Dock.

Philip Walters, secretary for the Ocean Watersports Trust, commented: "It's great to see all of these young people able to get onto the water at last. This event has demonstrated what is possible. We look forward to fulfilling our ambition to create a dedicated water activities centre with top class facilities."

Anyone wishing to use the activities centre can contact the Trust or phone 07855 463293.

Mixed weekend for Athletic teams

ON Saturday Barry Athletic travelled to table toppers Pontymist and captain Gee won the toss and asked the home side to bat on a bowlers' wicket.

They soon reduced the home side to 19 for 3 in the seventh over after Hellyar had Ashram caught by Usswald for 12; Gee bowled Ali for 2 and had Asif LBW for 2, moving the score onto 32 before Hellyar bowled Adnan for 13.

There was then a partnership of 50 before Salman was brilliantly run out by wicket keeper Baker for 21; with 100 on the board the sixth wicket fell when Goodway picked up the first of his three wickets when he had Z. Ali caught at slip again by Usswald.

Goodway then picked up the wicket of Malik, caught by Gee for 36 with the score 117 for 7. Two wickets then fell with 131 on the board - first to go was Armani caught on the fence by Rhett Jones for 4; the next over Griffett had Salbin LBW for 13.

Billy Usswald then picked up the last wicket when he had Uzair caught by Mike Provis for 19 and Pontymist were all out in the 37th over for 166.

Barry's reply got off to the worst possible start when after three balls they lost the wicket of Brock with only one on the board. At 36 they lost the wicket of Jones for 12, but there was then a 46 run partnership between Goodway and Baker before Baker became the third man out for a fluent 30 with the score 82.

They soon lost Provis for 0, Murphy for 0 and Goodway for 30, losing four wickets for six runs, being reduced to 88 for 6.

At 125 Barry lost the wickets of Taylor-Moore for 11 and Griffett for 22; at 129 they lost the wicket of Gee for 1 and the last wicket to fall was that of Hellyar for 5, Barry bowled out for 140 and a 26 run loss.

At the Island Barry 2nd XI entertained Pontymist 2nd XI and batted first and scored a massive 294 for 3, the fifth time this season they have scored 240 plus through Jophin Reji (105), Lee Morgan (72 not out, now averaging 284 in the league so far this season), Hugh Smith (35) and Aaron Malpas (32 not out).

In reply Pontymist got 143 for 5 with Turner getting 53 and G.Price 33. Young Kerion Ferriday (2 for 35) and Martin Baker (2 for 26) had the best bowling figures as Pontymist ended on 143 for 5 and a Barry win by 151 runs, a fifth straight win for the table-topping Stags.

On Saturday Barry Athletic junior section had the honour of being guard of honour for Glamorgan's T20 Blast game against Sussex at the SWALEC Stadium.

High winds are no bother for the Cadoxton bowlers!

ANOTHER bad night for bowling, with high winds affecting the direction of the bowls, brought Murch to meet Cadoxton in the Munro Cup fixture.

This also has the Colin Reynolds Remembrance Cup, presented to the winner annually, by his widow. Cadoxton made it three consecutive wins.

Two of the rinks finished level, with one win and one defeat to each team. John Jones' rink started well against Roger Mauchline, with 4 shots in the opening two ends; the game advantage fluctuated throughout with both sides leading in turn. A '5' gave the visitors a four shot lead with three ends left - a '2' and two singles ended the game level.

Don Kuhnell was matched with skip Les Aubrey and held the lead, until the final end. During the game the home team opened a gap on numerous occasions, but were pegged back, so the gap never widened extensively.

On the final end Cadoxton held a five shot advantage and were holding shot until the last bowl, but all their other bowls were in front of the jack. The jack was moved but the shot wood also moved which saved an eight against, but a five tied the game.

Gordon Davies had Ron Crouch as his opposing skip and fell 7-1 behind after five ends. A '4' and a '2' cancelled this out, but six losing ends left them trailing by 12 shots, from which they never recovered.

Kelvin Chedgzy's rink took the honours with a superb performance against Bill Frampton's rink. The game opened with a '6' in their favour and a further '6' was added half way through.

Only on six ends were shots conceded, and although one of these was a '4' on the penultimate end, the game and the overall match were won.

Scores: R Byrne, D Evans, D Jeffries, G Davies 11-22 T Rice, IA Perry, D Blaine, R Crouch; J Stacey, I Heppenstall, D Brook, J Jones 18-18 C Salvadge, G Russell, M Hughes, R Mauchline; P Swannick, I Robertson, H Hellyar, K Chedgzy 28-11 D Perkins, D Lettis, M Warman, B Frampton; D Hammond, S Clements, H Craven, D Kuhnell 18-18 D Poole, J Harrison, J Allen, L Aubrey. Final score: 75-

CADOXTON V ROATH PARK – CML6

Roath Park were the visiting team on a fine day, to Victoria Park for the ML6 match against Cadoxton.

Once again the rink skipped by Don Kuhnell, held the lead throughout the game, although they had to fight hard against a stubborn response from the opposition.

After taking a 9-2 advantage the next seven ends were lost, but kept to just singles. However with Ivor Robertson having a superb game, the scoring picked up again, and they finished comfortable winners.

Roy Harding scored just once during the first six ends on his rink, and trailed 7-3. However they counteracted with a run of six winning ends, which included a '5' and two '3's, giving them a comprehensive advantage of 19-7.

Although the opposition came back with a '3' and a '2' the remaining ends ended evenly with each scoring three singles.

John Jones skipped his rink to a 10-3 start after 8 ends. The opposition then got back into the game at 10-7, and the match continued with both sides sharing the scoring, taking the score to 17-15 in favour of the home side. Two further singles were added to complete the third success.

Howard Craven skipped the fourth rink and had a tight struggle during the early stages to reach a tied position of 9-9 after 12 ends. At this stage the visitors moved ahead with eight shots scored in four ends. Four of these were recovered during the next four ends, but a '2' against on the last ensured an away victory. The result was the third 12 points to 2 win for Cadoxton, of the season.

Scores: H Hellyar, J Ferguson, I Robertson, D Kuhnell 17-10; P Swannick, D Evans, K Chedgzy, R Harding 23-15; J Stacey, L Davies, D Brook, J Jones 19-15; R Byrne, L Adams, G Davies, H Craven 14-19. Final score: 73-59.

Due to further shortages of players, Cadoxton postponed their A team game against Murch A in the CML7.

Romilly stalwarts forced to give up the game they love

THREE Barry Romilly bowling stalwarts (pictured from left to right) Idris Michael (28 years), Gordon Wilson (35 years) and Gordon Whittaker (21 years) are having to give up the game they love.

They have been bowling for Barry Romilly for a total of 84 years. Idris Michael and Gordon Wilson have only ever played bowls at Barry Romilly, but Gordon Whittaker started bowling in 1937 when he played for Jersey Bowling Club in Swansea.

In 1961, Gordon moved to Barry and started playing for Barry Athletic. After a few years, he joined Barry Central B C where he was chairman for more than six years.

He then joined Barry Romilly in 1994 where he has played ever since, and it was only last season that Gordon, at 95 years of age, finally called it a day.

It is with heartfelt warmth that all at Barry Romilly Bowling Club and the local bowling fraternity wish them all, in 1937 when he played for Jersey good health and best wishes. FP

Swimming club hold presentation evening in town

IN May the Barry Amateur Swimming Club held their Summer Sprint Championships.

At this event swimmers compete to be the fastest over 50 metres in all four strokes. The first three in each event are presented with a medal at a presentation evening held a few weeks later.

The Summer Sprints Presentation evening to present these medals and celebrate this competition took place at the Cadoxton Conservative Club on Saturday, June 13.

We began with the presentation of medals to all the swimmers who took part in this competition and the presentation was followed by a buffet meal and disco, enjoyed by all.

Gold medals were presented to Connie Millar, Isabelle Thomas, Aimee Jefferson, Gwenno Davies, Henry Davies, Aaron Belby, Alysha Lee, Caitlin Williams, Thomas Pugh, Louie John, Pia Sully, Nadia Hamandi, Luke Connor, Bethan Williams, Ryan Connor and Georgia Looker.

Alice Davies, Nia Thomas, Lauren Whittaker, Nia Fuller, David Youngs, Carys

Thomas, Nadia Hamandi and Iestyn Perkins all gained silver medals.

There were Bronze medals for Phoebe White, Emilia Knevet, Caitlin Dowling and Cian Ralphs and medals were also presented to the following: Taylor Albertides, Abigail Baker, Cerys Borges, Eleri Borges, Mollie Bournier, Ella Davies, Tegan Goodwin, Sophia Hamandi, Reuben Hopkin, Bethan Jones, Rebecca Piper, Victoria Strazala, Elin Welch and Sophia Whittaker.

The evening was enjoyed by all the swimmers who attended and we now look forward to our biggest event of the year early next month - The Cardiff Bay Sprint Meet, which is held this year on Saturday, July 4.

At this event, which takes place in the Cardiff International Swimming Pool, swimmers enter from many south Wales swimming clubs and also from some English clubs; this gala is very well attended with the spectator area full of parents.

Murch club members celebrate their 25th!

ON Friday, June 12 Murch Bowling Club, Dinas Powys, celebrated their 25th anniversary, with a gala dinner at The Masonic Hall in Penarth.

Almost 100 members, past and present, together with invited guests, were welcomed by club president Mrs Judy Fudge and enjoyed an excellent dinner. During the meal, the founder members were introduced and presented with a memorial scroll, thanking them for their loyalty and support over the last 25 years. Judy then recalled some of the notable and funny experiences during this time. We were well entertained by Jacky Webb with the able assistance of one of our 'male members', who, for many reasons, should remain nameless!

Judy thanked her committee, and especially Eileen Carryer, for their hard work and efforts in arranging such an enjoyable evening and hoped the club would go on for another happy and successful 25 years.

The club would also like to encourage new members to join and enjoy our excellent facilities. Contact our club secretary, on 02920 515568, for more information.
